DENVER CAGERS WIN FIRST GAME OF CUP SERIES WITH EASE

U.S. National Basketball Champions Trounce Victoria Dominoes by 74-32 Score in First Game Of Challenge Series for Jacob France Trophy—Lead at Halfway Time, 33-9

RACING through for baskets almost at will on beautifully executed plays, Denver Safeways, United States national basketball champions, handed the Victoria Dominoes their worst defeat in three seasons, last night, at the Victoria High School gymnasium, in the first of a two-out-of-three-game series for the Jacob France Trophy, symbolic of the world's amateur championship, by a 74-32 score.

Tonight on the same floor the teams will battle it out in the second game, and the third, if necessary, will be held Monday. There is still a possibility that the third fixture will be run off as an exhibition if Denver is successful in two straight.

Never at any stage of the battle were they in the running, the Dominoes were hopelessly outclassed by one of the smartest clubs ever to perform before a local crowd and that includes three professional teams which have shown here in recent years. The Dominoes looked small compared to their lanky opponents and had difficulty in trying to get the ball from the American champions, who have speed, block plays and every other offensive and defensive plays in the books. There was little question about the result five minutes after the opening whistle, but the Dominoes kept plugging away and were a mighty tired team at the finish.

FORMER SOVIET ENVOYS NAMED

Two Recalled Ambassadors Implicated in Russian Treason Trial

MOSCOW, March 4 (AP).—A letter in secret chemical ink brought the names of two recalled Soviet ambassadors today into the great web of conspiracies confessed by the twenty-one defendants in Moscow's greatest treason trial.

Plotters already executed were linked with D. V. Bogomoloff, former envoy to China, who was recalled unexplainedly from Nanking last September, and Dr. Constantine Youreneff who was called home from Berlin and since has been rumored under arrest.

AMBASSADORS NAMED

The two ambassadors were named by Christian Rakovsky, one of the defendants, and himself once the Soviet's Ambassador to France.

The mysterious letter, addressed to Youreneff and signed by Gregory Piatakoff, a former vice-commissar of heavy industry who was executed as a conspirator, said a certain government would approach Rakovsky. It also implicated Bogomoloff.

Rakovsky said he already had met an important public figure in Japan, and they had agreed "our aims and those of a certain government coincide."

ANOTHER PLOT DISCLOSED

Another sensational disclosure was of a plan to seize the Kremlin and kill Joseph Stalin and other Russian leaders in May, 1937. Mikhail N. Tukhachevsky, brilliant Red Army marshal who has been executed, was pictured as the ringleader.

In conspiracies to dismember the Soviet Union and build a capitalist state on the ashes of the Soviet, the defendants told of plots to enlist the aid of Germany, Japan, Great Britain, Italy and Poland.

Youths Wounded In Austrian Raid

VIENNA, March 4 (AP).—The first instance of shooting in the political disorders incident to the legalization of Nazi activities occurred today, when ten masked men raided an Austrian youth movement hall and wounded two youths.

COUNT TOLL IN SUNSHINE

Southern California Reckoning Flood's Cost in Lives And Property

LOS ANGELES, March 4 (AP).—Soggy Southern California raked mud and debris today under sunny skies after its worst rainstorm in history.

Many sections were isolated. Large areas were slowly shaking off the storm paralysis.

Death and damage census figures fluctuated with the faltering communication network. Tonight it seemed the human toll might be 198 lives and the devastation in the tens of millions of dollars.

A recheck of casualties late in the day showed seventy-four bodies found, fifty-six of which were identified. Others reported missing aggregated 124. Previous radio checks had confused some reports of missing with reports of bodies found.

THE WORST DISTRICT

Orange County appeared to be the scene of the highest and largest floods. The mad Santa Ana River, breaking over wide areas, was reported to have caused sixty deaths, thirty bodies being found.

In Los Angeles County thirty bodies were reported recovered, twenty-three being identified. Thirty others were reported lost.

Five deaths were reported in San Bernardino County, and unconfirmed reports from the desert section east of the San Bernardino Mountains indicated thirty-eight missing in the Barstow-Victorville region.

Riverside County reported seven bodies recovered, four identified. Twenty-three others were reported to have perished.

In Ventura County two bodies

Three Killed By Explosion Of Coal Dust

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP).—Explosions described by wide-eyed witnesses as sounding like an earthquake" destroyed a brewery building in Upper Manhattan today, took at least three lives, injured fifteen persons and spread incalculable damage about the crowded neighborhood.

Hundreds of stores and apartment buildings in a radius of many blocks were left without windows, and debris was strewn about the streets.

Fire Marshal Thomas Brophy said it appeared the blasts had been caused by the ignition of coal dust in the boiler rooms of the Horton Brewery by an electric spark from a welding machine.

District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey ordered an investigation.

Railway Hotel to Be Completed as Soon as Possible

Crews to Be Increased to 250 Men to Prepare C.N.R. Structure for Opening Under Joint Operation in May Next Year—Vancouver City Council Approves Plan

VANCOUVER, March 4 (CP).—Work on the new Canadian National Railway Hotel here will be started "immediately and rushed to completion," S. J. Hungerford, Canadian National Railways president, said tonight after the city council approved a plan for joint operation of the structure by the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railway companies.

John Schofield, C.N.R. chief architect from Montreal, said within two or three weeks skeleton crews, now working on the building's fifteenth and sixteenth floors, would be increased to 250 men or more.

Opening date of the huge grey Georgia Street edifice was tentatively set for the last week in May, 1939.

$12,000,000 INVESTMENT

When completed the building will have cost approximately $12,000,000. Some $1,250,000 will be spent in completing actual construction work mostly on lower floors, and furnishings and equipment will take another $1,500,000. To date a little more than $9,000,000 has been spent on the building.

Late today aldermen, by resolution in special session, approved in principle the proposed joint operation of the new hotel by the two rail companies. They reserved the right, however, of objection if details of final agreement between the companies are not acceptable to the city solicitor.

The aldermanic approval removed the last obstacle to completion and opening of the hotel, started in 1928.

SUSPENDS OBLIGATIONS

Under the resolution the city suspends obligations of the C.N.R. to maintain a hotel in Vancouver on

PLANE SEARCHERS ARE PESSIMISTIC

Admit Little Chance for Survival Of Nine Aboard Missing Air Liner

FRESNO, Cal., March 4 (AP).—Eleven planes scanned hundreds of miles of jagged, snow-blanketed terrain today in the disheartening search for the skyliner lost in Tuesday night's terrific storm.

Low-hanging clouds impeded the searchers and heightened the danger of mid-air collisions, but some of the survey craft flew as much as 800 miles on a single hop, and then refueled and started again.

Search leaders would not be quoted, but privately they admitted there was only "one chance in ten thousand" that the Trans-Continental and Western air liner escaped from the treacherous, storm-ridden area without killing all nine persons aboard.

THREE DIE IN CRASH

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., March 4 (AP).—Three men, including Dudley Golding, prominent Dallas oilman, were killed tonight in the crash of their plane eight miles west of here.

Conservatives Open National Conference With Closed Session

Various Committees Deal With Matters of Organization and Finance—No Mention Yet Made Of Plans for Party Leadership

OTTAWA, March 4 (CP).—Three men close to Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, were named at the opening session today of the two-day National Conservative Conference to head the three committees to consider and report on the major matters before the conference.

Hon. J. L. Bowman, former Speaker of the House of Commons and delegate from Manitoba, convened the committee to report on policy and on the proposal to hold a national convention.

Hon. Earl Lawson, member of the House of Commons for York South, taken into the Bennett Cabinet as Minister of National Revenue shortly before the 1935 general election, convened the committee on organization. MORE INSPECTORS TO BE APPOINTED

Transport Department Will Exercise Increased Power to Suppress Radio Interference

OTTAWA, March 4 (CP).—Almost unlimited power exists in the Transport Department to suppress radio interference, Hon. C. D. Howe, Transport Minister, told the House supply committee today during consideration of his estimates.

"We could close down the Ottawa Electric Railway if it was found to be interfering with broadcasting," he said.

The broad powers had never been exercised to the extent of applying extreme measures, the minister said. The fact that the power was there had been sufficient to bring results.

To complaints that in some districts, especially in British Columbia, there were not sufficient interference inspectors to handle the work, Mr. Howe replied that more money was needed, and he said, as soon as possible additional inspectors would be appointed.

Making Search for Wife of Governor Believed Marooned

LOS ANGELES, March 4 (AP).—Search was continued today for Mrs. Helen Troy, wife of Governor John Troy of Alaska, believed marooned by the flood in a cabin above San Gabriel dam No. 1, about thirty miles northeast of Los Angeles. Mrs. Troy was spending a few days as the guest of Ethel Comings, county probation officer. Two foresters were dispatched to the region with a short wave radio set in an attempt to find Mrs. Troy and another guest, Miss Shirley Morgan, of Los Angeles, and send word of their condition.

BUDGET FOR NAVY'S NEED

Admiralty Estimates This Year's Necessary Outlay At £123,707,000

LONDON, March 4 (CP).—Great Britain today completed the picture of what this year's share will be of the duty, in the words of Prime Minister Chamberlain, to "make Britain so strong nobody will dare attack her."

The Admiralty announced the Royal Navy needed £123,707,000 ($618,535,000) to maintain its watch over Empire territory and trade throughout the globe.

THE TOTAL BILL

Previous estimates of £102,720,000 for the Royal Air Force and £108,500,000 for the Army, with £20,276,000 for ordnance factories, £8,500,000

LAND ANNUITIES IS BIG OBSTACLE

Talks Between Great Britain And Eire Centre on Trade Agreement

LONDON, March 4 (CP).—The land annuities problem loomed as the chief difficulty tonight as Great Britain and Eire sought comprehensive trade agreement.

With the question of partition apparently in the background because no progress can be made on it, talks today centred on trade. They will continue tomorrow, it was decided, and be resumed Monday.

The cost of pensions to former members of the Royal Irish Constabulary, disbanded in 1922 after the Act of Parliament that created the Irish Free State—now Eire—and other matters connected with the financial dispute from which resulted the tariff war which began in 1932, are also understood to be a hindrance to progress.

A trade agreement without abolition of the severe duties on the flow of goods across the Irish Sea would not be of much value, observers agreed.

Prime Minister De Valera of Eire, who will not admit the annuity payments are even due, will not agree to an Empire arbitration court to settle the problem. He is pledged to quit office rather than compromise over annuities.

Troops Drive General Yen From Shansi

SHANGHAI, March 4 (AP).—Japanese dispatches from the Shansi Province war front today reported the fall from power of General Yen Shi-Shan, for nearly twenty years one of China's outstanding military figures.

Domei, the Japanese News Agency, said General Yen had fled from Shansi after his provincial forces had been defeated by the [illegible] at Linfen, the provisional capital in the southwestern corner of the Province.

Sandwich Shops "Pie" for Bandits

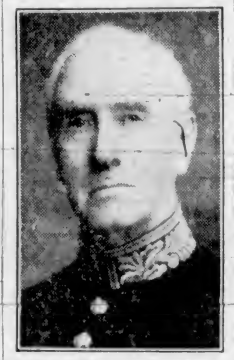

VANCOUVER, March 4 (CP).—For the sixth time in as many weeks, police tonight were investigating a robbery at a Rob Roy sandwich shop in the downtown area.

Don McMillan, waiter, reported $88 in cash stolen from a secret hiding place by thieves who gained entry through a window. Police believed someone familiar with the building was responsible for the robbery.

Rob Roy establishments have been robbed five times in recent weeks.

COURT RULES AGAINST ALBERTA ON ALL ISSUES IN REFERENCE

Social Credit Plan Unconstitutional

SIR LYMAN P. DUFF

CHIEF Justice of Canada, in his judgment handed down yesterday on the Alberta reference, held that the Social Credit Act, the cornerstone of the Social Credit scheme of legislation, was unconstitutional.

Highest Canadian Tribunal Rules Provincial Credit Regulation, Bank Taxation and Press Control Legislation Unconstitutional—Federal Disallowance and Reservation of Assent Valid

Chief Justice Says Social Credit Act Unconstitutional

OTTAWA, March 4 (CP).—The Social Credit edifice of Premier William Aberhart, of Alberta, was considered today to be in legal danger as a result of decisions of the Supreme Court of Canada. In unanimous judgments, six judges of the court ruled today that three Alberta bills relating to credit regulation, bank taxation and newspaper control, were unconstitutional. In addition, they agreed the Dominion retained power to disallow Provincial legislation and Lieutenant-Governors to reserve assent to bills.

Going outside the terms of the reference, Chief Justice Duff and Justice H. H. Davis passed an opinion that the Alberta Social Credit Act, the keystone in the Legislative efforts of the Aberhart Government to establish a new financial system in the Province, was unconstitutional.

This phase of the Chief Justice's decision was considered the most important of all because of the legal doubt it cast on the whole Social Credit plans of the Aberhart Government.

TWO FIELDS AFFECTED

One interpretation placed on it was that it precluded establishment of a Social Credit financial system in any Canadian province because of lack of legal control over two fields, banking and trade and commerce, held by the Dominion under the British North America Act.

Following are some of the comments of the other judges relating to the Social Credit Act.

Judge Patrick Kerwin and Judge O. S. Crockett: "An examination of

HALT JAPANESE AT THE BORDER

Patrol Again Held Up at American Defence Sector Of Shanghai

SHANGHAI, March 4 (AP).—United States Marine Guards were reported by police today to have halted a force of seventy-five Japanese soldiers at the Bubbling Well Road boundary of the American defence sector.

The marines held up the Japanese patrol for half an hour at the entrance to the American-defended zone of Shanghai's International Settlement, increasing the friction between foreigners and the city's Japanese conquerors.

No comment was made by marine headquarters, but it was presumed a protest would be made to Japanese authorities.

American marines repeatedly have had to turn back Japanese armed patrols attempting to enter the foreign area to "supervise" Japanese there. After previous American rep-

RESIGNATION IS DEMANDED

Conservative Leader Calls Upon Alberta Government To Quit Office

EDMONTON, March 4 (CP).—Calling upon the Government to resign because of adverse court rulings on legislation, Conservative Leader D. M. Duggan moved a motion of non-confidence in the Government during the budget debate in the Alberta Legislature today.

Mr. Duggan was still speaking when the House adjourned until Monday afternoon.

"When the House opened today, it was the obvious duty of the Government to tender its resignation, withdraw the budget, ask the House to grant interim supplies and appeal to the country," declared Mr. Duggan in referring to judgments given by the Supreme Court of Canada today.

LEGISLATION IS KILLED

The judgments declared the Credit Regulation Act, the Bank Taxation Act and the Act Respecting the Press were unconstitutional, and upheld the right of the Federal Government to disallow provincial legislation and the right of the Lieutenant-Governor to reserve assent to legislation for signification of the pleasure of the Governor-General.

Charging pledges were broken by the Government and that it had failed to institute Social Credit, Mr. Duggan reviewed the Government's record and declared it had failed in its pledges to the people.

NO NEARER SOCIAL CREDIT

"We are now considering the Third annual budget of the present Government, with a record of every promise broken and not one step closer to Social Credit," he declared. Promises were not good enough, and members of the Government in the House had revolted against the 1937 budget, declared Mr. Duggan.

MEASURE WILL AID VETERANS

More Than 5,000 Former Soldiers to Benefit by Pension Changes

OTTAWA, March 4 (CP).—The House of Commons today gave first reading to Pensions Minister C. G. Powell's bill to amend the War Veterans' Allowance Act and bring within its scope veterans who, because of "economic conditions and handicaps, combined with disabilities," are unlikely again to become self-supporting. It is confined to men who saw service in a war theatre.

The amendments would make available to all veterans coming within the minister's definition the monthly allowances of $20 for single men and $40 for married men, paid under a 1935 amendment to such veterans who had reached the age of fifty-five. It received general approval from House members.

MANY ARE ELIGIBLE

At present 5,171 veterans become immediately eligible for the grant according to the computation of the War Veterans' Assistance Commission. Added cost to the country is estimated at about $2,000,000 a year.

The bill brings within the scope of the allowance the surviving veterans of the South African War and exempts from the amount of earnings recipients are permitted to make any pensions awarded to men who won the Victoria Cross or the Distinguished Conduct Medal. Warrant officers who won the Military Cross similarly have the grant which goes to them from that decoration exempted.

"While South I addressed several mining organizations and businessmen's clubs and businessmen and financiers are just becoming alive to the possibilities here," Woodside said.

The Chamber of Mines manager said he had been asked many questions regarding the Zeballos and Cariboo Districts and the Southern Interior around Nelson and placer mining out[illegible] Atlin and other Northern districts.

"Our great rearmament programme shows we are determined to make our defences secure, and we will not submit to dictation from any quarter of the world," he added.

HISTORIC CHURCH AT TORONTO IS BURNED

TORONTO, March 4 (CP).—Fire today reduced to a shell of stone, historic Jarvis Street Baptist Church, for twenty-eight years the forum from which Dr. T. T. Shields has declared a militant doctrine of orthodox belief. The sixty-three-year-old structure's interior crumbled to ash in an afternoon fire said, by officials, to have been caused by defective wiring. Fire Chief George Sinclair estimated damage at $200,000.

HUMAN TOLL OF FLOOD IS NOW AT 210

The minister added the masks were intended only for use of Canada's permanent defence forces, rather than for non-permanent militia or civilians.

Marked Increase in Expectation of Life Shown by Statistics

Man's Allotted Span Increased by Fourteen Years, G. H. Garrett Explains—Light Thrown On Modern Social Conditions

NOTWITHSTANDING the Great War, the influenza epidemic, the depression and the increase in automobile fatalities, the average expectation of life has been extended by nearly fourteen years during the period from 1911 to 1935, H. G. Garrett, provincial superintendent of insurance, told members of the Real Estate Board of Victoria in Spencer's dining-room yesterday.

He was quoting from a recently-published statistical record and account of the experiences of an old-established insurance company in the United States.

Describing this statement as an astonishing one, Mr. Garrett remarked that 200 years ago the average age at death was forty years; today it was sixty, and the writers of the book were hopeful that it would be extended to seventy. Contrary to what one might expect, the gain in life had been more rapid during the depression years from 1930 to 1935 than in any other period.

WORLD A SAFER PLACE

"This longer average life is not due so much to man's physique as to environment. The world is a safer place in which to live," the speaker continued. Improvement in sanitation, advancement of science of medicine, and the public health movement, which began in earnest in the United States in 1911, were the chief factors contributing to longer life, he said.

The improved standard of living especially in industrial conditions, had a great bearing on the situation, and it was interesting to note that the rate of increase of life among the working classes was higher than that of other sections of the community, Mr. Garrett continued.

Touching upon the principal causes of death, the speaker stated that in 1911, tuberculosis headed the list, with heart disease next, and accidents sixth. In 1935, heart disease was first on the list, and tuberculosis has dropped down, with accidents last. A tremendous improvement in child disease also occurred.

TOLL OF HEART DISEASE

The writers of the book were positive that tuberculosis could be stamped out, but heart disease was taking a greater toll of life than any other kind of disease, the increase being due to the strain of life and the fact that middle-aged and elderly people did not take sufficient care of themselves.

Diabetes was classed as a major health problem of today, but the outlook was encouraging, Mr. Garrett declared. The disease occurred chiefly among overweight people, and one cause of it was that there was less expenditure of physical energy in modern times. Present conditions held promise of the ultimate control of influenza, and the writers did not regard the cancer situation as alarming, though the disease was on the increase.

Referring to suicide and homicide, Mr. Garrett remarked that the writers were surprisingly frank in their treatment of the situation in the United States, asserting that "the common denominator is the disregard for the sanctity of human life characteristic of American ways." In the United States the homicide rate was nineteen times higher than in the United Kingdom, and in violent accidents generally, America was higher on the list than any other country in the world, with the exception of Chili.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Quoting the automobile accident statistics for the United States, Mr. Garrett said that last year there were 39,700 deaths, 375,000 persons permanently injured, and 9,400,000 temporarily injured. The total cost of accidents in deaths and injuries was $3,000,700,000.

Referring to the police chief's report of 1937, R. H. B. Ker remarked that while the total of nine motoring fatalities in the city appeared small, taken on a population ratio in comparison with the United Kingdom and America for every eighteen fatalities in the United Kingdom, there would be twenty-seven in Victoria and forty in the United States.

Chief of Police Warns Residents About Valuables

HIEF J. A. McLellan issued a warning yesterday to householders not to leave valuables around where they were easily accessible to prowlers. The chief stated: "If citizens will exercise a little extra precaution and keep their money and jewelry in safer places, thieves will soon discover housebreaking is not worth while, since those are the only things they are after."

HAS UNUSUAL STUDY RECORD

Dr. Walter D. Kallenbach Earned Two Doctor's Degress While Blind

The only blind man on the North American continent holding two earned doctor's degrees, Walter D. Kallenbach, Ph.D., Th.D., the evangelist who is conducting a series of meetings in Central Baptist Church here, has a remarkable record of courageous study in affliction.

Formerly a five-letter athlete of Harvard University — in baseball, football, basketball, ice-hockey and track athletics, one of thirteen men to achieve this honor in the whole history of Harvard, Dr. Kallenbach afterwards played solo trumpet in Paul Whiteman's orchestra, of which he was a member on the European tour in 1924-25.

An accident during a hunting trip in Virginia cost him the sight of both eyes. For 110 weeks he lay in hospital, where he underwent twenty-five operations, but left the hospital in December, 1928, totally blind.

INTENSIVE STUDY

Undaunted by his affliction, Dr. Kallenbach entered the University of Virginia a month later, and so applied himself to his studies that he accomplished four years' work in two and one-half years, having other students read to him, and writing his examinations on a typewriter.

Dr. Kallenbach continued his studies in various theological seminaries in the United States, until he had received all the degrees leading up to and including those of Doctor of Philosophy and Doctor of Theology.

Following a completely normal life, Dr. Kallenbach swims, plays golf, horseshoes and quoits, bowls, and rides horseback, and has indulged in his favorite hobby, fishing, during his visit to Victoria. He attends to his own correspondence and typewriting, and travels everywhere alone.

EVANGELICAL WORK

Dr. Kallenbach, who will appear in the next edition of "Who's Who in America," began his evangelical work four years ago, "feeling the need in the world for a sane, dignified and constructive evangelism, free from clap-trap and sensationalism," he says.

He claims to have led over 9,000 converts to Christ, and to have brought back 23,000 former converts who had become indifferent in their religious life.

Dr. Kallenbach will continue his daily meetings next week, and will depart on Thursday night. His next series of meetings will be in Los Angeles.

WOULD INVOLVE REORGANIZATION

English Cinematograph Act Calls For Changes by Central Films, Limited

Under the terms of the British Government's Film Bill now before the House of Lords, it would be necessary for Central Films, Limited, to be completely reorganized in order to obtain entry for its productions into the United Kingdom under the exhibitors' quota clause of the act, Kenneth J. Bishop, president of the company, stated yesterday, after studying a Canadian Press London dispatch containing further information as to the scope of the measure.

Mr. Bishop declared that it was clear from the dispatch that motion pictures produced at the Willows studios could not be brought under the exhibitors' quota unless Central Films were reorganized as a company with Canadian capital. This, he said, would be difficult to do.

In view of the situation that has now arisen, Mr. Bishop said he was not prepared to make any announcement as to production policy until he had given the fullest consideration to the conditions imposed.

COMMITTEE PLANS PROPERTY SALES

Council Group to Invite Representative Citizens With Ideas To Its Meetings

Encouraged by a report that revenue from the city lands department totaled $13,299.62 in January and February, compared with $7,167.28 during the first two months of 1937, the City Council lands committee, headed by Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, is proceeding with plans to dispose of a greater quantity of reverted property.

A junior clerk was hired for the lands department on Tuesday to assist with the growing volume of office work.

In the near future members of the lands committee plan to invite to their meetings representative citizens and delegates from various city organizations to present their views on methods of placing reverted property back on the tax roll.

Alderman B. J. Gadsden, who attended a recent meeting of the committee, expressed a view that the city should establish a higher rental rate for billboard space and generally raise the standard of outdoor advertising. Rentals at present bring the city $1,000 per year. Alderman Gadsden promised the committee he would write to Western Canadian cities to ascertain their policies in regard to billboard advertising.

St. Mary's Men's Guild will hold its regular meeting on Thursday next and will have as guests the members of the Oak Bay United Men's Guild. The guest speaker will be Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, pastor of the First United Church.

School Board Plans To Seek Opinion on Disputed Estimates

Trustees Fail to Agree With Ruling of City Solicitor and Comptroller in Regard to Status Of $2,782 in Annual Budget

ON the motion of Trustee W. Percy Marchant, the school board decided at a special meeting yesterday afternoon it could not agree with the city solicitor and comptroller that items totaling $2,782 listed in the board estimates were actually extraordinary expenditures.

School board extraordinary estimates of $6,360, and others of $2,782 classed in the same category by the solicitor and comptroller, were returned to the trustees by the City Council on February 28.

Trustee Marchant's motion also set forth that the City Council should withdraw its disapproval of the school board's extraordinary estimates since they represented necessary and essential equipment and supplies, and if the council did not withdraw its objection, the board would find it necessary to secure legal advice.

MOTION FILED TODAY

Accompanied by a detailed explanation of the $6,360 extraordinary estimates, the motion will be filed with the city clerk this morning.

Trustee Marchant regretted that Mayor Andrew McGavin's indisposition prevented him from attending the board meeting, and that other City Council representatives were not present. He was totally unable to agree with opinions expressed by the city solicitor and comptroller in regard to extraordinary items. They were necessary expenses that the board had to incur. If the City Council persisted in its attitude, the only safe thing for the board to do was to seek independent legal opinion, he stated.

Trustee Frank G. Mulliner suggested in future years the council should appoint a representative to keep in touch with the board during discussion on estimates.

EXPRESS OPINION

Both Trustees Mrs. A. S. Christie and John Wallace thought the council was cutting matters too fine in differentiating between ordinary and extraordinary estimates.

Trustee Percy E. George, chairman of the board, was heartily in accord with Trustee Marchant's opinion. He was sure that the majority of items in the $2,782 list were ordinary expenditures.

Trustee R. H. Green believed the board should seek legal opinion on its extraordinary estimates.

George H. Deane, municipal inspector, presented the trustees with a complete analysis of items listed in the board's extraordinary expenditures of $6,360.

It is anticipated that several trustees will attend a City Council meeting, to be held at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The winners at cards were Mr. and Mrs. Gault, and Mrs. Morley and Mr. Bevan, Coombs. Consolation prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. Lang, and Mrs. Clapham and Mr. Sansom. First prizes consisted of chickens for the ladies and jars of tobacco for the men.

MANY VISITORS RECORDED

NANAIMO, March 3.—The Upper Island Publicity Bureau, in annual meeting here, received reports that 780 tourists had registered at the Nanaimo office last year, and the registrations represented 2,300 visitors. A delegate from Parksville stated a check-up of that district showed that tourists expenditures in that district alone had amounted to $150,000. Officers for 1938 will be elected at the next meeting of the bureau, which is to be held at Qualicum two weeks hence.

PUPILS PROVIDE ENTERTAINMENT

Annual Concert by Oaklands School Children Is Outstanding Success

The Oaklands School auditorium was filled to capacity and many were unable to obtain admission last night, when some 400 pupils of the school took part in the annual school concert. A delightful and pleasingly varied programme was very skilfully presented, and the very capable manner in which the children played their parts reflected the highest credit on the principal, R. H. McInnes, and all members of the teaching staff, of whose care in rehearsals and preparations for the entertainment there was much evidence.

Many spectacular items were staged, and the colorful and appropriate costuming of the young performers was an outstanding feature of the concert. Several of the parents and the senior girls assisted with the costuming and make-up, and the senior boys gave able assistance in stage management and properties.

STORIES IN COSTUME

The programme opened with a very prettily presented medley by the Grade I children, who danced the "Durham Reel," and played an enjoyable singing game, "London Bridge." Excerpts from various well-known stories from the reader were staged in costume by the pupils of Grade V, and old-time dances were delightfully presented by Grade II.

A novel item was the "Norwegian Mountain March," by Grade III children, who danced first to music provided by the orchestra, and concluded their number with a dance to Norwegian music played on a small xylophone. Rhythmic drill was very cleverly done by Grade IV girls, and burlesqued by the boys with very comic effect, and Grade VII boys presented an amusing mock trial, under the title of "Judge Apple Sauce Presides."

CHORAL READING

Another unusual item was a choral reading by Grade VI children, who recited in unison with marked expression, under a conductor, "On Wings of Song" and "The Lass With a Delicate Air" were sung by the combined senior and intermediate choirs, and Grade VIII pupils presented a pleasing dramatization of "Ivanhoe," presenting a sufficient number of the outstanding scenes from the book to lend continuity to the performance and introduce many characters. The dramatization was done by A. J. Stevenson.

The school orchestra took a prominent part in the entertainment, playing accompaniments and contributing several selections, among which were "Shoulder to Shoulder," "On the Field," "Festival Overture" and "Songs of the South."

VICTORIA MALE CHOIR

The Victoria Male Choir has cancelled the rehearsal for Monday night at the Crystal Garden auditorium, owing to the interest taken by the members in the concert engagement of John Charles Thomas at the Royal Victoria Theatre on the same date.

Owing to the lack of facilities, the proposed concert that was to be given today at Sidney has been cancelled.

At the Theatres

ATLAS THEATRE Simon Simone sings for the greatest surprise knockout of the year in "Love and Hisses." The vivacious French actress co-stars with Walter Winchell and Ben Bernie in the film, which will end today at the Atlas Theatre.

CAPITOL THEATRE Ethel Merman's work in support of Sonja Henie and Don Ameche in "Happy Landing" is one of the outstanding features of the Darryl F. Zanuck hit musical from Twentieth Century-Fox. The film is now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Quick on the draw is Bob Allen, popular young Western star whose latest picture is Columbia's "The Rangers Step In," which will end today at the Columbia Theatre. He rides through to an heroic conclusion with all the aplomb of a Galahad, his lady fair in this film being Eleanor Stewart.

DOMINION THEATRE Madly in love where it was madness to love, an American soldier of fortune and the most glamorous and dangerous woman in all China defy the deadline together in "International Settlement," new Twentieth Century-Fox hit now showing at the Dominion Theatre.

PLAZA THEATRE What is believed to be a new record for number of cameras used for an indoor scene was set when nine cranks turned to catch various angles of one of the big night club sequences in Walter Wanger's "52nd Street," which will end today at the Plaza Theatre.

RESIDENTS SIGN LARGE PETITION

Urge Mayor and Council to Remove Pound Control From Parks Superintendent

A petition signed by 744 residents of the city, objecting to the manner in which pound matters are being handled under the present parks superintendent, W. Herbert Warren, was filed at the City Hall yesterday.

The petition requested that Mayor Andrew McGavin and the City Council remove from Mr. Warren's jurisdiction all city pound matters as outlined in city by-law number 2201, and that the by-law be accordingly amended.

It was also asked that by-law number 2620, sections seven and nine, be amended. The sections deal with dogs being accompanied by a person in charge, and being led on a leash or chain on any street, lane or public park.

HOLD DEBATE ON HYDRANT RENTAL

Oak Bay May Pay for Use of Nine City-Owned Outlets Along Foul Bay Road

Payment of an annual fixed sum for use by Oak Bay of nine of the city's nineteen fire hydrants along Foul Bay Road was discussed yesterday afternoon by city fire wardens and Oak Bay representatives.

Those present were Fire Wardens Archie Wills, W. Lloyd Morgan and W. H. Davies, Fire Chief Alex Munro, Fire Chief E. G. Clayards, Councillors Richard Angus, P. A. Gibbs and John V. Johnson, and R. F. Blandy, Oak Bay municipal clerk.

Fire Warden Wills stated that the fire wardens would recommend to the City Council on Monday night that Oak Bay be granted the use of Foul Bay Road hydrants upon payment of a nominal fee. It is understood that such a proposal will be satisfactory to Oak Bay.

After the departure of the Oak Bay representatives, the city fire wardens interviewed several agents for aerial ladder trucks. The sum of $7,500 was placed in the estimates in order that fire wardens might discuss a plan to finance the purchase of a ladder over a period of three years.

Nerves Were So Bad Could Not Stand The Children Playing
The happiness of every home depends largely on the health of the wife and mother. If she is nervous, peevish and irritable, worried by the cares of the household, and tormented by the pains and irregularities that accompany a run down system, there can be no happiness in the home for the husband and children.
Women who are weak and run down, nervous and irritable should take a course of Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills to help restore them to the blessing of good health.
Mrs. Thomas Kirk, Nesfon, Alta., writes:—"I was in such a weak, run down condition before I started using Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills I could not do my housework, and would be so nervous I could hardly stand the noise of the children at their play. Now, after taking three boxes of H. & N. Pills I feel like a different person.
"I shall always tell anyone not feeling well to use your medicine."

MASS OPINION IS FOR PEACE

Steamship Head Believes European Armament Policies Will Prevent War

MONTREAL, March 4.—Prospects for the Summer tourist season have not been upset by the current political atmosphere in Europe, but rather remain "bright and encouraging," according to William Baird, steamship passenger traffic manager, Canadian Pacific Railway, who returned recently from a business visit to the other side.

Mr Baird said that, in his opinion, there would be no major European conflict this year. The general mass of the European public, he said, are now better informed than ever before on international affairs. This mass opinion is for peace.

Armament leaders in England have the opinion that they are being organized for one of two policies—war or disarmament—and the general opinion is that it will be the latter. In other words, the building of a strong police force will prevent trouble.

IS GOOD SIGN

Germany and Italy are among the most active of the European countries that are reaching for a share of tourist traffic which Mr Baird thought was a good sign for peace.

Another large-scale exhibition that will attract many visitors from this continent is the Danish Agricultural Exhibition, which King Christian will open on June 21.

To cope with the heavy anticipated trans-Pacific traffic of the Summer, the Empress of Australia, whose accommodation had been improved during the Winter, will be diverted from her usual Summer cruise programme and will make three additional voyages this year, with nine voyages from Quebec in 1938, as against six in 1937.

ALAMEDA, Cal., March 4 (AP).—The Philippine Clipper departed for Honolulu and the Orient at 3.19 p.m. today, two days behind schedule because of adverse flying conditions. Eight passengers were aboard.

CURTAILING OPERATIONS

Coast Fishermen Agree on Measures to Govern Halibut Season

PRINCE RUPERT, March 4 (CP).—Halibut boat owners and fishermen in Seattle, Vancouver, Prince Rupert, Ketchikan, Petersburg and Juneau—the principal halibut fishing ports on the Pacific Coast—today were agreed on voluntary curtailment measures for the 1938 season.

The agreement, reached at a mass meeting here, was based on the need for fish conservation and price stabilization. It provided for distribution of departure of vessels for the fishing banks immediately after opening of the season to prevent bunching, lay-over periods between trips and quotas for each boat.

Departure of boats to Area 2 will be on an alphabetical basis. The fleet will be split up into four groups over a period of ten days. The first will leave port so as to be on the banks by April 1, opening of the fishing season.

Area 3 boats will be spread over a fifteen-day period, according to the order in which they tied up at the end of the 1937 season.

CATCH LIMITS

Limits will be as follows:

Area 2—2,500 pounds per man per trip when landed at Seattle, 2,800 pounds per trip when landed in British Columbia or Alaska by both American and Canadian vessels.

Area 3—3,500 pounds per man per trip, both American and Canadian boats.

Ships will be permitted to weigh out and retain without penalty 100 pounds of fish per man over the normal limit. Above this leeway ships will be penalized one day lay-up for each 500 pounds or part of such excess. Vessels in Area 3 which return without a full catch will receive credit on the lay-up period immediately following of one day for each 200 pounds per man shortage.

Chairman Appointed

NEW WESTMINSTER, March 4 (CP).—K. K. Reid has been appointed chairman of the New Westminster Harbor Board pending the naming of a third commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of C. A. Welsh, it was announced today.

Air Base to Be Established at Alaska Point

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 4 (By Radio to the Associated Press).—Six United States Navy bombing planes will take off tomorrow morning at 6 o'clock for Sitka, Alaska, Rear-Admiral Charles Blakely, commander of the aircraft scouting force, said tonight.

The ships will carry forty-two officers and men under command of Lieut.-Commander John Perry. They will stop and remain for a week at the Sand Point Naval Air Station in Washington before continuing on to Alaska. Admiral Blakely said the flight would be a routine transfer of planes and personnel preparatory to establishing a fleet air base at Sitka June 1.

NEW SUBMARINE HAVING TRIALS

Successor of Ill-Fated S-4 Underwater Craft Completed Two Days Ago

PORTSMOUTH, N.Y., March 4 (AP).—The United States Navy's new submarine S-4, larger and equipped with far more safety devices than her ill-fated predecessor sunk in Provincetown harbor ten years ago, engaged in builders' trials off the coast today.

Named the Snapper, the undersea craft was completed officially two days ago. She had been under construction since December, 1935.

The old S-4 carried forty to death off Cape Cod on December 17, 1927, after a collision with the coast guard destroyer Paulding.

BROADCASTING PROPAGANDA

The saving grace of the new policy of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation is that listeners retain the privilege of switching off the American propaganda with which so many programmes are suffused. This is being done, and so much resentment has been aroused in the Dominion over the attempt to Americanize the air of the country that the advertising programmes can be affording but a minimum of value to their sponsors. It is no exaggeration to say that the great majority of radio listeners resent propaganda and do not listen to it. So far as it is direct, as in the case of the new series of programmes absorbed for a cash consideration by the C.B.C., it is simply yawn-making. The people of Canada, to the extent that they approved national broadcasting under state auspices, did so on the understanding, given by the former Bennett Government, that advertising of any sort would be eliminated. They wanted to take their pleasure in this particular without the pain of having their ears vexed with verbal insistency on the virtue of some particular product, about which they could hear, if so inclined, over the American networks.

State broadcasting was devised primarily to give the people of Canada some respite from American programmes. It was supposed to be a national, not a pro-American venture, and yet it is becoming more and more of the latter. In fact, the C.B.C. is now an adjunct of the N.B.C., and the Minister of Transport, who is the responsible political authority, attempts to defend this happening. Instead of developing as an educative force, the C.B.C., through its American alliance, is making those willing to be victimised the prey, often enough, of bad grammar and erroneous pronunciation, as well as of propaganda in some instances that is alien to the national instincts of the people of this country. The irony of the situation is that the people of Canada are being taxed for what they could get free by a mere motion of the hand before broadcasting was nationalized in this country.

LORD HALIFAX

About the only fault that the Labor Party at Westminster can find in the appointment of Viscount Halifax as Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs is that he sits in the House of Lords. The fact is that it is doubtful if any more fitting appointment could have been made, for Edward Frederick Lindley Wood, to give him his name as a commoner, has had a most distinguished record in public service and one of invariably successful accomplishment. He entered Parliament as member for Ripon in 1910 and for a decade was a modest back-bencher. Then he became Parliamentary Under-Secretary for the Colonies, later President of the Board of Education and then Minister of Agriculture. In 1926 he succeeded the Marquess of Reading as Viceroy of India, and during his term there exhibited the utmost tact and prudence in dealing with Indian conditions when Gandhi's civil disobedience campaign was at its height. He acquired a reputation as one of the greatest of Great Britain's pro-consuls and returned to England with a rich and ripe experience. Since then he has become a personality of great value to the National Government and one who enjoys the confidence of Mr. Neville Chamberlain to a high degree. It is certain that at a time when more concerted efforts are being made to preserve the peace of Europe—and that means of the world—than for several years that Lord Halifax will prove an instrument towards this end and one to reflect added prestige on the record of British diplomacy.

A CENTENARY

One hundred years ago there was tense excitement in England over the prospects of passenger steamship service being established between Great Britain and North America. Two steam-driven ships, the Sirius, 703 tons, and the sumptuous Great Western, 1,440 tons, were being prepared for the adventure, and adventure it was, because only the most enthusiastic were able to overlook the fact that the steamers were not to be compared with full-rigged ships for safety in heavy seas. They could manage eight to nine knots in calm weather, but their power units were of little value in turbulent waters.

It was the Sirius that made the first crossing with passengers aboard. She dropped anchor at New York on April 22, 1838, after a hard voyage from London, by way of Cork. She encountered gales and head seas that so terrified her crew that they demanded she be swung stern to the storm and that she should head for safety and a home port. Lieutenant Roberts, R.N., commander, faced the emergency with a pistol in each hand, and the ship held her course. Citizens of New York, then a city of 300,000, gave the ship a rousing welcome. The ninety-four passengers were given a civic greeting.

When the excitement attendant on the arrival of the Sirius was at its height, the Great Western hove into sight, less than twenty-four hours behind. She had caught fire in the Thames on her way to sea and had been beached on the Chapman Sands, where her decks were cut into so that water could be poured upon the flames. Although she soon was made ready for sailing, she had lost three days and so was robbed of the honor of making the first passenger crossing. From Bristol, where she took on extra fuel, her time to New York was fifteen days. She remained in service and made a number of crossings with fair regularity.

While passenger service on the Atlantic dates from the first voyages of the Sirius and the Great Western, they were not the first steamships to cross the ocean." In 1819, the steam-engined United States ship Savannah, built as a sailing ship, crossed from the port, whose name she had taken, to Liverpool. She used her engines for only four and one-half hours of 207 at sea, so her voyage did not stand as a steamship record. There is a meagre account of a steamship, the Conde de Patmella, making the voyage from Liverpool to Lisbon and thence to the "Brazils" in 1820. What is accepted as the first steamship crossing of the North Atlantic is the voyage of the Dutch steamer Curacao, which left Rotterdam in April, 1827, and in one month crossed to the West Indies. She made subsequent annual crossings until 1830.

Canadians claim the honor of the first steamship to cross the North Atlantic between mainland points. Built at Quebec, the Royal William, in 1833, made the voyage from Quebec to Gravesend between August 4 and September 11, using 330 tons of coal for the voyage. Among her owners was Samuel Cunard, of Halifax, who founded the famous steamship line bearing his name six years later. There is no record of the Royal William carrying passengers.

Development of steamships was greatly accelerated by the voyages of the Sirius and the Great Western. Wood gave way to iron; the screw replaced the paddle-wheel. Every decade saw larger and faster passenger ships. Today, beside the Queen Mary and the Normandie, the Sirius would be a sorry-looking toy, but the same is true in the development in most of the mechanical works of man. Once what appears in its early stages to be radical development has been proved basically sound, growth and improvement quickly carry the mechanism to a degree of perfection far beyond the fondest dreams of the pioneer workers.

GLENN CUNNINGHAM'S RECORD

The indoor record for the mile run has been broken by Glenn Cunningham and the time, 4 mins. 04.4 seconds, sets a notable mark which is unlikely to be equalled or beaten for a long time. It is the fastest mile, either indoors or outdoors, ever recorded and is an indication of the development of athletic prowess under modern training facilities and with the improvements effected to latter-day tracks. Doubtless during the coming Summer, Cunningham, who is now at the height of his prowess, will make an attempt on the outdoor record of 4 mins. 06.4 seconds held by Woodersan, of England, and with excellent prospects of setting a new mark, for American tracks and the air conditions in that country make for faster times than in England. Glen Cunningham, by the consistency of his performances, has earned the reputation of being perhaps the most notable runner of the time. He is the athlete who keeps in perfect condition.

Canada has spent $14,204,883 on the port of Churchill and $4,178,506 on aids to navigation in Hudson Bay. Over and above these outlays something like $50,000,000 has been spent on the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway, designed to afford a new outlet for Canada's wheat crop. From the economic standpoint, all this expenditure has been next door to valueless and represents an investment that is a heavy loser. When will statesmanship be exercised in estimating the needs and the possibilities of the future? When it is, taxation need be little more than half what it is at present.

All the history of human progress is one of men making their own way through life without the assistance of any government, and very often in spite of ruling powers. The more they are hindered by governmental interference in their comings and goings, the less likely they are to develop their initiative and enterprise.

The sense of duty is the fountain of human rights. In other words, the same inward principle which teaches the former bears witness to the latter. Duties and rights must stand and fall together.—William Ellery Channing

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Leaving politics aside, there is need for revision of electoral and other boundaries in British Columbia. The development of transportation, for one thing, has changed the pattern over which people move about the province, rendering some areas more accessible from their electoral neighbors than they are now to their own constituencies. At other points isolated parts of a provincial district cut like a wedge into a totally different district, creating boundaries that exist on a map, but not on the ground itself. Some little time ago the province acted to amalgamate, in so far as was then possible, the geographical borders of the various administrative areas for the purpose of simplifying departmental work under mines, agriculture and several other headings. At one time there were a round dozen maps of British Columbia, each one showing something different with respect to administrative areas. That has now been whittled down, so that for practical purposes many of the provincial districts are the same, whether one is dealing with the Department of Mines, the Department of the Provincial Secretary, or any other branch of the provincial service. Complete uniformity has not yet been obtained, however, and until it is, duplication of effort through a diversity of boundaries for the same geographical areas will continue to add extra costs and confusion to the administration of public business in the province. Electoral ridings are a more delicate issue, involving actual seats in the Legislature, and seats in the House have never yet grown cold for lack of warm contention.

All over the Pacific slope last evening, aircraft dispatchers were nursing their ships from airport to airport through a storm-spotted sky. Did you but listen for five minutes to the short-wave radio band you would have acquired, as I did, a fine respect for the care and attention given to the practical first requirement of flying and safety. You would have heard ships being rerouted to avoid Burbank, Cal., being coaxed along from intermediary airports to main terminals, dropping scheduled flights and resuming others when rain and vision permitted. Bit by bit, and order by order, all flights were brought safely home in a system that is a triumph of organization of the ground rails of flying. Through it all you could have received a report on the weather for almost every mile of airway on the Pacific slope and far eastward into the Middle West of the continent. It was somebody's express business. Those who were concerned were very much on the job. Every little while you would have heard that flight so and so was completed under conditions which even ten years ago would have grounded every airplane in its home hangar. Unfortunately there is only little prospect that the public listened to the aviation band on the radio last evening. The greatest proportion of the public, no doubt, picked up the afternoon papers, read of the search for a missing transport plane and put down the papers again, remarking on the dangers of aviation. The papers did not report hundreds of flights completed safely all over the continent on the same day, and did not need to, because those flights were not news. A missing plane was news, and that, the rare exception, was a guarantee, not of the danger, but of the safety of commercial transport flying. Try the aviation wave lengths on your radio some evening. The result will open your eyes.

Modern tales lack something in constructive imagination. Compared with Perseus and the Golden Fleece, Pygmalion and Galatea, and the like, twentieth century myths are dull and colorless. It is all very well to say that there is a dragon at Ottawa that bites off the heads of provincial governments, but how about the dragon? Has it red eyes and a forked tongue? Do flames come out of its mouth? What are its habits and where is its lair? People would go far to see a dragon; one, that is, that is circumstantially described. Alternately we are told that some gentlemen are marching in blue shirts, and other gentlemen are marching in red shirts in Canada, but always at a point somewhere else. We never are permitted to see the parade, and most people love a parade. It is the same with the other tales; no body, no substance, no imagination to them at all. The truth is this is getting to be a factual, unimaginative age, where even fairy tales have to be absorbed into the current of news to be accepted. Then they are reported as facts, and who could believe in a dragon as a fact? No one. A dragon simply has to be a fairy tale, and a rip-snorting, fire-throwing, stamping and roaring monster of a fellow to be even a decent fairy tale. It is no wonder that when Walter Disney resurrected Snow White and the Dwarfs from Grimm's Fairy Tales that people went wild over it. Bless you, they haven't had such a fairy tale for years. Not, mind you, that some governments have always kept their heads, but that there is no evidence the dragon got them. It is difficult, this diving in a factual age. It is so hard to tell the facts from the fiction and vice versa.

Save Our Forests!

Many readers may not be aware of the work being done in the interests of reforestation and preserving our forests by the Society for the Preservation of Native Plants of B.C. The fact that the name of the organization contains the word "plants" leads many to believe it is an organization interested only in saving wild flowers from marauding bands of so-called nature lovers. The word "plants," however, is meant to include even the biggest trees, and it is their preservation that this small group aims to accomplish.—W.J.F.

Happy Memories

Messrs. Writing to the home folks, the bowlers speak highly of the splendid hospitality of the Californians, and of the way they have been treated on the present trip. In competition the local players did very well indeed, reaching the quarter-finals in the doubles, and the sectional finals in the triples. Cross and Marconini, Victoria Lawn Bowling Club pair, played in the doubles. The trio will reach Victoria tomorrow, back from California and its beautiful greens, and we feel sure they will bring back home many happy memories of their trip South.—S.T.

Glancing Over Sport

Do you know that the St. Louis baseball teams are constructing a new score board in Sportsmen's Park, home of both clubs, at a cost of $35,000? It will be forty feet high and 130 feet long and will be the most up-to-date board in the majors. One person will operate the various electric switches and it will give the fans the inning scores of every game played in the big leagues and the International and American Association during the day . . . Have some important fixtures scheduled on the local sport battlefront today. Out at Macdonald Park two very important rugger matches are on the menu. Vancouver Rowing Club will beat J.B.A.A. in the Rousefel Cup final by three tries, and the Navy will take the Scottish in the "B" play-off. In football we see Victoria City meeting the Garrison in a McGavin Cup match. We must hand it to the soldiers from Work Point. This prediction will please Joe Bloom, for he knows that I am 90 per cent wrong. At night we have Denver Safeways facing the Dominoes in the second of the basketball series. I will string along with Denver, for a club with such a record should take the decision. Note to basketball fans: This is being written Thursday night before Denver set foot in the city . . . Another play-off game in Vancouver. Take it away Staceys . . . How they will finish in the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap. Seabiscut, Pompoon and Stagehand.—J.D.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of March 6, 1888)

Beecher Bay Branch—A bill was read a first time in the Legislature yesterday in connection with the proposed branch of the E. & N. Railway to Beecher Bay. The bill provides for the laying of one or more tracks from some convenient point between Esquimalt and Goldstream to Beecher Bay, and to construct and operate telegraph and telephone lines along such railway, the company to be granted a strip of land fifty feet each side of such track and such portions of land as may be necessary for stations etc., from the lands of the Crown.

Interior Development—A roll of a dozen different mining and geological plans of the Interior of British Columbia was presented to the Minister of Mines, Hon. Mr. Robson, yesterday, by Amos Bowman, D.L.S., of the geological survey, showing the country surveyed by him as far as completed. The maps are proofs to accompany reports of Mr. Bowman in progress of publication by the Geological Survey; the majority relating to Cariboo. In these, the Province has the special interest of having contributed one-half to the expense of field work. The style and cost of finish for publication in the reports were examined by the Cariboo members and others.

No Cattle Losses—From the Interior of the province it is learned that the Winter was extremely favorable for cattle, and no losses whatever are reported. Stock are coming out in splendid condition. Very little feeding was necessary, and the large supplies of hay are being held over.

BILLBOARDS TO ADVERTISE CITY

Twenty-Five New Signs Will Be Erected by Local Bureau In Washington

An extensive advertising campaign with the use of billboards throughout the State of Washington was approved by the directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau at a meeting held Thursday.

Twenty-five billboards, featuring the slogan, "Follow the Birds to Victoria, a Little Bit of Old England," done in five colors, will be erected at strategic points on the state highways.

Constructed of metal, the boards are also decorated with three large seagulls which stand out against the sky. The signs inform tourists how far it is to the nearest ferry to Victoria. A lattice work outlines the sign on top and bottom.

EXPECT MANY TOURISTS

The directors of the bureau are expecting a large influx of tourists through the State of Washington this year, due to the national advertising campaign, costing $100,000, which that state is conducting in an effort to attract more tourists to the Northwest.

It is believed Victoria can take advantage of this campaign by erecting these billboards. They will be owned and maintained by the local bureau. In addition to the ones to be placed in Washington, the bureau owns approximately thirty more in California and Oregon.

Plans call for boards to be located on Highway 99, between Portland and Vancouver; Highway 101, on the Olympic Penninsula; Highway 10, from Montana and Idaho; on the Stevens, Snoqualmie and Natchez Passes; three on the main highways from Eastern Washington to the coast; three on the Columbia River Highway; near the cities of Walla Walla, Pascoe, Yakima, Ellensburg, Wenatchee and Spokane.

Letters to the Editor

No letter to the editor will be inserted except over the proper signature and address of the writer. This rule admits of no exception. No letter should exceed 500 words in length.

BETTER EYESIGHT WEEK

Sir,—If the above is for the benefit of the public, especially for children, I could wish it a great success.

May I say a few words from my experience? I have spent a good many dollars for glasses. I think the trouble has been chiefly from strain of the muscles. I know of no occupation that is liable to give more strain on the eyes than that of a railway engineer. But what I observe is that when I was a child it was such an uncommon thing to see a child with glasses that it used to evoke a good deal of pity. Now it is as common that no notice is taken of it. Then we had very poor lights—the cotton wick tallow candle, or at best a small coal oil lamp. Better light is often advertised for better sight. Is it that young eyes are too much concentrated in about one range of vision and not exercised often enough in different ranges of vision?

About nine years ago I took a course of lessons for the eye, and got what was called a New Vision Builder, which was a very simple thing. After practice for two or three months I was able to lay aside my long distance glasses for several years and could do quite a bit of reading without reading glasses. But I discontinued the practice and the rubber dried out, so that it was useless. I wrote to Los Angeles to try and get another, but the letter was returned as a dead letter. I have, however, answered an advertisement in an English paper for an instrument which seems to be for the same purpose, and hope to have more information in about two weeks. If we are to have health insurance, I think we should have a room in the museum where every instrument to assist health that could be used by the people should be shown.

Hoping this may be a suggestion for some one more capable than myself.—ALFRED WIGGS.

REAL ESTATE VALUES

Sir,—In reply to Mr. H. P. Winsby's letter in Saturday's Colonist, I would suggest that he is just a tiny mite more "tangled up" than I am. His statement that "land has no value in itself, yet is the basis of all value," is to say the least, a little nebulous and hazy, and needs some explanation. Besides, I wish he would point out any kind of property, other than land, that increases in value from municipal services. Of course Mr. Winsby has not benefited by the present set-up, although he appears to support it. He would no doubt have been better off today under a leasehold system. It is only the very few who profit by private monopoly of land; the majority are victims.

Under a land-booming system values fluctuate a great deal and there is quite a danger of buying at the wrong time.

Many people seem incapable of taking the long view and are unaware that real land value keeps increasing on the average because of the progress of civilization and increase of population, and would not fluctuate under a leasehold system as it does under the speculative set-up.

In the year 1852 the Hudson's Bay Company bought the larger half of the peninsula on which Victoria stands for £41 13s 4d from half a dozen Siwashes who affixed their pitiful crosses on the deed. Did they understand what they were doing? And what authority did they have for staging such a potlatch? The company held an auction sale of lots in the year 1858 and obtained an average of $3,500 per lot, but in the middle of the sale withdrew the remainder as it was disappointed with the price realized! What increment could it have been expecting in a short six years? Wasn't it just a little bit hard to please? Selling a fifth of an acre for seventeen and a half times what the whole countryside had cost looks like a fairly good rake-off to a fellow who is fool enough to work for a living.

In the year 1886 real property in Victoria was reassessed and the value put at $3,000,000 instead of $1,500,000 as formerly. The population was then 11,000. Today there are upwards of 40,000, and the present assessment, as everyone knows, is so many times greater that, even allowing for inflation, the growth in value far outstrips the growth of population. This extra growth in value is caused by municipal services and the advance of civilization and adds to land values alone. No other kind of property is benefited or increases in value thereby.

So it is quite clear that Mr. Winsby didn't invest at the right time. And it is equally clear that the leasing of land is the better system. The community would get its own and so would the individual.

ALEXANDER HAMILTON.

DUNCAN COUNCIL TO OBTAIN ESTIMATES

DUNCAN, March 4.—At last night's meeting of the Duncan City Council, it was decided to devote $600 to the expense of obtaining engineering estimates on the coat of installing a system of sewers in Duncan. The decision was reached on division, three to two.

The streets committee submitted estimates for street repairs and upkeep amounting to $9,730, which is $1,500 below last year's figure.

School estimates, both ordinary and extraordinary were approved.

"Mah bredren," said a colored preacher, "when yo' hears Gabriel sound his horn, yo' wants to be ready to jump."

"Mah goodness!" excitedly exclaimed one of the congregation, "Am he acomin' in an automobile?"

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

HOW MUCH LUCK

I am often asked the question, "How much luck is there in bridge?" Of course, it is impossible to answer this accurately. There is no gauge that will reveal the precise percentage of luck versus skill. As a matter of fact, the question itself is ambiguous, because the degree of luck varies greatly according to the caliber of the four players comprising a game. If it is an average foursome, the element of luck runs very high. Expert play, however, reduces luck to such an extent that it is virtually impossible for an average pair to beat an expert pair, even if the former enjoys an appreciable advantage in cards. For example, what good did it do the inexpert declarer in the hand shown below to reach a small slam contract?

The bidding:

West opened a low diamond. Dummy's ace was played and declarer then led a diamond to his king and ruffed with a third round. Now, with a do-or-die expression, declarer led a club from dummy and when East followed low, went into an agonizing huddle, attempting to guess whether to play the king or the jack. With nothing to go by, he finally tossed in the jack, and to his disgust, saw West gobble up the trick with the queen. West promptly returned a club and it was all over.

An expert would have gone to the trouble of avoiding the club guess, which he would be no better equipped to solve than was the actual declarer. The expert would see the chance for establishing spade tricks that would permit club discards. Thus, upon winning the first diamond with the king (not the ace) the expert would lay down the spade ace, then cross to dummy's diamond ace and ruff a low spade. He then would lead a heart to the jack and ruff another low spade. If the spade king dropped on this round (which it would) the need for any club guess would be obviated. Two more trump leads, ending in dummy, would permit declarer to discard both of his clubs on the established queen and nine of spades. He finally would concede a diamond and, instead of losing 100 points, he would chalk up 1,430 points to his own credit.

Stocks Rally in Early Trade on New York Mart

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP).—Stocks enjoyed a mild rally in today's early market proceedings, only to be thrown for a loss in the closing hours.

Steels, motors, coppers and specialties led the morning recovery for advances running to a point or so. Declines among these groups were in the majority at the sound of the final gong.

The feeble upturn was accomplished on extremely small volume, as was the subsequent backslide. Transfers totaled 488,930 shares, compared with 466,880 yesterday. The week's turnover thus far was the lowest in about three years.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks was off .3 of a point at 44.6.

In a mixed bond market, United States Government obligations were mixed, with a range of 3-32's lower to 5-32's higher in active issues. Foreign governments generally were slightly higher.

WHEAT FUTURES TAKE BIG DROP

WINNIPEG, March 4 (CP).—May wheat today collapsed to its lowest level since January 4 as futures fell almost 4 cents in the most stirring session on Winnipeg Grain Exchange in several weeks.

General liquidation resulted from forecast of moisture in the United States Southwest and absence of foreign buying in North American wheats. Wheat futures reached lows untouched since February, closing 3 1-2 to 2 cents lower, May at $1.22 5-8, July at $1.14 1-2 to $1.14 5-8 and October 94 1-8 to 94 1-4 cents.

Buying virtually disappeared as Chicago sagged nearly 3 cents and Buenos Aires and Liverpool weakened.

Liverpool closed at the day's low 3-4d to 1d off.

Buenos Aires values sank 3-8 to 1 cent.

In cash wheat dealings Nos. 1 and 2 Northern were unchanged. 15 and 7 cents higher than May future.

Barley and oats held steady. Barley closed 7-8 to 1 lower, oats 5-8 lower, flax 1 7-8 lower and rye 1 3-4 to 2 1-4 cents down.

Industrials were mixed with rayon and tobacco shares in supply, the latter losing 1 to 2 points net. Trans-Atlantic issues were mixed and domestic rails continued to sag.

Copper stocks remained steady while oils and mining shares were quiet.

A. T. & T. £35; C.P.R. $6 3-4; Int. Nickel $50 1-8; U.S. Steel, $54 3-8; British American Tobacco, 103s 1 1-2d; Hudson Bay 22s; Rhodesian Anglo-American, 28s; Woolworth, 61s 1 1-2d.

PRICES WEAK AND VOLUME LOWER

TORONTO, March 4 (CP).—Prices weakened and volume fell off on Toronto share market today. Only Western oils gained.

Gold share index dropped .60, industrials .37 and the miscellaneous mines firmed .20, due mainly to strength of the junior oils. Volume at 1,092,000 was down nearly a million shares from Thursday.

Interest centred in the medium-price and junior golds with the Western oils playing a secondary role.

Hudson Bay and Consolidated Smelters dropped a point each. Nickel lost 1-4 and Waite-Amulet lost a few cents. Noranda and Falconbridge closed higher.

Eldorado traded in heavy volume, closed 10 cents higher.

Final prices were higher for Calgary & Edmonton, Brown, Davies, East Crest, Firestone, Home, Merland, Nordon, Okalta, Pacalta, Vulcan and Dalhousie. Royalite was steady at 46.

WHAT'S DOING ON THE LOCAL RETAIL PRODUCE MARKET

The first asparagus of the season arrived here on Wednesday. The prices are high at present, but wholesalers expect a reduction in the near future. A second shipment of Florida strawberries is scheduled to arrive next week. The first consignment sold well and is now completely cleaned up.

A boatload of California vegetables and citrus fruit was received here Thursday night. Further shipments will be irregular due to the weather conditions in the South. A large shipment of Sunkist oranges also came in on Thursday.

Texas grapefruit is plentiful on the local market, and shipments are arriving regularly. Dealers say this fruit is of excellent quality and it is being disposed of rapidly. Palestine grapefruit is sold out.

A car of Okanagan apples came in Thursday. McIntosh Reds, Delicious and Newtowns are selling for fifty cents a box cheaper than at this time last year.

New potatoes are on the market now and are selling at extremely low prices.

There is no change in the orange market, and the lemon and grapefruit mart is still very firm. Increased prices are expected on most California produce due to the flood condition there.

PUBLICATIONS DISCUSS STARS

Results of Three Investigations by Observatory Here Are Published

Yesterday there were issued from the office of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory three publications containing results of the investigations that have been carried out by members of the staff.

The largest one is a forty-eight-page, quarto size, discussion of the new star appearing in the constellation Lacerta in June, 1936. In this investigation, all members of the staff participated, each taking a particular phase of the work. The star originally was a body similar to our sun, but about 2,700 years ago, according to the distance as determined by the local astronomers, it started to expand. When first observed here it was expanding at about seven hundred miles per second, but this increased day by day for about ten days, until an explosive velocity of 1,600 miles per second was attained. At its maximum the so-called new star had a diameter 210 times that of our sun and a real luminosity of 83,200 times as great. Many other new and interesting facts are brought to light in this investigation.

The other two publications are shorter numbers, both being the determination of the orbits of double stars. The star numbered 109510 in the Henry Draper Catalogue is shown by Dr. R. M. Petrie to consist of two components moving about each other in a period of 7.3366 days. While the masses of the components are about the same, one is considerably brighter than the other. The star numbered 214652, in the same catalogue, is shown by Dr. Andrew McKellar to consist also of two components swinging about each other in a period of 1.254535 days, but one component is practically non-luminous compared with the other. The period of revolution has been very accurately determined through the aid of earlier Victoria observations, and is accurate to a tenth of a second.

These publications are sent to all leading observatories and universities throughout the world in exchange for similar publications. About 460 institutions are on the mailing list.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

FINDING THE CAUSE OF ASTHMA

As a medical student I was taught that as the cause of asthma was unknown and there was no known cure, all that could be done was to give the usual treatment—amyl nitrate, nitroglycerine, and not to worry about the case, as the asthmatic seldom if ever died from an attack. Today asthma is not thought of as a disease such as diabetes, Bright's disease, typhoid fever, but as a group of symptoms due to various causes which tend to contract or tighten the little air tubes so that a little plug of mucous gets caught in these tightened or contracted tubes and the individual has great difficulty in coughing up the mucous in order to get relief.

Naturally the first thought in the treatment of an asthmatic attack is to open up or dilate these little air tubes, so that not only is the plug released but the air in the bottom of the lungs can be breathed out more readily because the little tubes are open more widely. Thus adrenalin, amyl nitrate, and other drugs that dilate or open up the little tubes give relief during an attack.

However, during recent years it has been found that various substances and conditions of the body itself bring on asthmatic attacks, and every few weeks some new substance is discovered as a cause of these attacks.

Among the conditions in the body known to cause the attacks are deformities of the nose and throat—enlarged tonsils, adenoids, enlarged turbinate bones—an alkalosis instead of acidosis of the blood, and an allergy or sensitiveness of the individual to various substances. Among the substances known to cause asthmatic attacks are pollen of plants, fur of animals, feathers, house dust, molds, spores of fungi.

Thus, when the cause of asthma is sought, the physician examines nose and throat, sinuses, X-ray of chest, tries to find if all the glands are working properly—not too slowly or too rapidly—and also has various tests made to see if the patient is sensitive to various substances or to such common foods as eggs, wheat, beef, milk, potatoes and orange juice.

You can readily see that it may take a long time to find the cause or causes of asthma in any individual.

In the meantime, breathing in amyl nitrate will usually relieve an attack, and the breathing exercise—trying to breathe out every portion of air in the lungs—often prevents an attack.

WILL CLOSE DOWN

CHICAGO, March 4 (AP).—When the closing gong on the floor of the Chicago Curb Exchange sounds at 2 p.m., March 14, trading will cease permanently. The Curb, which came into existence nearly ten years ago at the height of the stock boom, ends operations because of lack of business.

The Piper's Tune

By JOSEPH McCORD

CHAPTER LVIII

The night Terry was to leave, he had dinner alone with Caradad at the apartment. It seemed a very different Terry that very subdued and eager to please—more like the Terry he could be when he wanted to. If was difficult not to relent, not to let a flood of memories sweep away the little doubts. Yet Caradad's calm judgment made her aware that Terry was not at ease. He acted like a small boy with something on his conscience.

If Terry only could be a little more straightforward. It was strange how she kept comparing him with Severance. J. S. was painfully forthright and blunt. He was most disconcerting, yet it would never occur to any one to question his sincerity.

Caradad tried to reach a conclusion with herself as to just how far J. S. had influenced her in her attitude toward Terry. He had been very frank in letting her know how deeply he cared for her. He even had given Terry reason to think so—yet he had been so decent about it. That was the word. In spite of all he had said, he had been very careful to keep out of the picture. So careful that he had succeeded in making her miss him. And he would soon be going away and, most likely, out of her life.

Caradad found herself feeling rather glad that Terry's train left at a fairly early hour. When the moment for leave-taking arrived, the emotion seemed to increase. Terry attempted to cover it with a jocular mood.

"This is the first time I've gone away since we started housekeeping," he reminded her with a smile. Will you promise me to be duly lonesome?"

"Of course," she answered in the same vein. "I'll deny myself to all callers."

"A fine chance round here," he grunted, "and this is once we can take advantage of it, or I can of the rights and privileges you once insisted upon giving me."

Before she realized what he was about to do, Terry caught her in his arms, held her closely and pressed a lingering kiss against her unresisting mouth.

"Good-bye, dear," he whispered. And was gone.

Almost an hour later, he called from the station. "Dad, you're not angry with me?"

"No."

"Sure?"

"Of course."

"Well, I thought I'd feel better if I knew. Oh, yes. I wanted to tell you that I wasn't sorry. Bye."

Nearly a week passed without any word from Terry. Caradad did not resent it. She excused Terry readily. He was enjoying a change of scene. She was so prompt in coming to that conclusion that she began to wonder a little if she were not enjoying something of the sort herself. She missed Terry, she expected to. But it was more of a relief than she anticipated to find that her number of callers had lessened noticeably.

There was one rainy afternoon when she found herself wishing she had somebody to talk to. Her mind suddenly reverted to the card in her secretary, the one with John Severance's phone number on it. If he hadn't made it so uncomfortably plain that he was expecting a call from her and that when she did call, it would be a request for some service at his hands.

That made it entirely out of the question. Just the same, she wondered a little. Wished.

J. S. still had a trick of obtruding in her thoughts of Terry, and the latter was much in her mind these days. No matter what instance was under consideration, it ended always with that last good-bye. The tingling shock of his embrace—and the first kiss from him since she was a very small girl. Somehow, that kiss had not brought a thrill.

For some reason, the lines of a poem kept recurring. It was Oscar Wilde, wasn't it. Something about each man killing the thing he loved. . . .

"The coward does it with a kiss,
The brave man with a sword."

It wasn't very nice to think of that. But the words would come in spite of her. Queer how one admired lines of poetry well enough to memorize them.

"Mr Tankersley is calling ma'am," Wilberforce intoned from the doorway.

Hopes and Fears
Of People with Nervous Disorders

Life is made up of hopes and fears. When good health prevails we are hopeful and buoyant. In times of ill-health the fears dominate. Especially is this true of nervous disorders. Fears then make life miserable.

You fear or worry because you cannot sleep. You have a dread of crowds, and fear of being closed in or having things fall on you. But you also dread being left alone. You may even have fears of insanity. Fear and helplessness may so dominate you that you have spells of despair and discouragement, when you can do little else but cry. You must have something to restore hope, something to build up strength and confidence.

Most people have found that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a most satisfactory restorative for the nerves. With nerve force restored to the system you soon regain the vigor and energy which are necessary to health and hope and confidence.

SUNSHINE INN REPORT GIVEN

Larger Number of Applicants in February Than January, It Is Stated

Sunshine Inn has reflected a larger number of applicants in need of meals during the month of February than in January, the comparative number of meals being 3,449 provided in the twenty-eight days of February, as against 3,023 provided in the thirty-one days of January.

Since arrangements were made to co-operate with the Family Welfare Association last Summer, in relation to children coming to the Inn for meals, it has been found that few children have applied for food. The number of meals applied for by women was largely reduced also.

At a recent survey of the men receiving aid at the Inn, it was found that of ninety applicants for meals, the average age was fifty years. The oldest being seventy-six years and the youngest nineteen. Among these ninety men there were fifty-six who had no trade, or calling, and all but a few may be classed as unemployable at regular work due to age, as the policy of present industry is to use younger men.

MAJORITY RESIDENTS

Of the ninety there were seventy-five classed as residents, either in Victoria or on Vancouver Island, the remaining fifteen being transients. The average length of residents for the seventy-five was found to have been in Victoria or district nineteen and one-quarter years. Twenty-seven were ex-service men, three of whom had very small pensions (war), two were applying for old age pensions.

From January 1 to February 28, the Inn benefited by receipts of $129.75 in voluntary donations, which included $50 from the recital by the Victoria Schubert Club on February 10 in aid of Sunshine Inn at the Shrine Auditorium.

The voluntary donations along with aid received from the Community Chest provided against further deficits.

COST OF OPERATION

The cost of operation per person meal in February was approximately 9 cents each (7 cents in cash and 2 cents in commodities donated by personal donors). Value of commodities donated in February, including coal and food stuff donated through the Schubert Club recital was $81.04.

"We wish to convey our deepest appreciation to the friends and donors and give assurance of the worthy service that the Inn has been doing in a quiet and efficient manner," said Alderman B. J. Gadsden, manager of the Sunshine Inn.

BUDGET FOR NAVY'S NEED

for air raid precautions, and other miscellaneous estimates brought the total bill for the coming year to £361,985,000 ($1,809,925,000).

The Admiralty figure did not include the new construction programme outlined in this week's Government White Paper on defence. The programme is to include two capital ships, one aircraft carrier, seven cruisers and many smaller craft.

BUILDING PLAN

Cost of the new building plan was placed roughly at £50,000,000, but only a fraction of this amount will be charged to this year's budget in supplementary estimates to be announced later. It is expected these estimates, to cover only the 1938 work on the new programme, will be about £3,000,000.

The size, and consequently the cost, of the new battleships and cruisers depend on what Britain, the United States and France decide to do about Japan's unwillingness to reveal her building programme.

When the new craft are laid down, British shipyards will have under construction seven battleships, six aircraft carriers and seven cruisers.

NAVAL AIR SERVICE

A feature of the announcement was the stress on the fleet air arm, the Naval Air Service. There will be an increase of more than £1,500,000 for this service, excluding aircraft construction.

Two battleships are scheduled for renovation during the year. Alfred Duff Cooper, First Lord of the Admiralty, in a memorandum, stated naval recruiting was most satisfactory. He said the naval aviation personnel was to be greatly increased.

An echo of the Spanish civil war crept into the memorandum when it stated that the resistance of the destroyer Hunter's plates to a mine explosion was proof that the process of electric welding continued to prove satisfactory. The Admiralty has stated the Hunter struck a Spanish insurgent mine.

Detectives Henry Jarvis and P. W. Richards investigated.

Car Committee — Mayor Andrew McGavin, Alderman John A. Worthington and Alderman Edward Williams will meet early next week to discuss the advisability of replacing several city vehicles. Two trucks and one roadster are sought by the public works department, one automobile for the health department and a service truck for the electric light department.

Publication Premature — Publication of briefs intended for the Rowell Commission before these are placed formally in the hands of the commission, to arrive here on March 16, was causing some concern in provincial circles yesterday. No official comment was offered, however. The British Columbia Government is withholding its own case until the commission has been approached first, it was pointed out.

Had Answer Ready—Fined $5 in the city police court yesterday for failure to stop her car at an arterial sign, a woman defendant was warned she must pay the impost. "Otherwise," said the court, "the sheriff can take your car, or anything else." "He'd better take me, then, because I've just paid $27 for a car licence, and that's all the money I've got," defendant responded. The court provided a week's grace in which the fine could be paid, and the compromise was accepted.

Studying Report—The committee appointed by the Real Estate Board of Victoria to find material for a brief to be presented by the Chamber of Commerce to the Rowell Commission is giving careful consideration to the Harper report, James Forman, chairman of the committee, reported to the board yesterday. Mr. Forman stated that the report contained a vast amount of material that had never reached the public eye, and many suggestions to which no consideration had previously been given.

Royal Bank of Canada officials announced yesterday the transfer of A. Watson, manager of the Douglas Street branch here, to be manager of the company's Fort Street branch. A. J. Ross, at present assistant manager of the main office in Vancouver, will take charge of the Douglas Street branch, while A. L. Putnam, at present in charge of the Fort Street branch, will relieve G. H. Stevens, manager of the Government Street branch, during Mr. Stevens' absence.

IS REMANDED FOR SENTENCE

Court Hears Unusual Story Involving Application for Government Job

Convicted in the city police court yesterday of obtaining $75 by false pretences in a begging appeal made to a woman complainant, Bruce Lumsden was remanded by Magistrate Hall for sentence today.

The accused said that he had been at former times identified with the Manitoba Industrial and Development Board, worked as assistant director of development on Western lines for the Canadian Pacific Railway and at present was applying for a position with the British Columbia Department of Trade and Industry.

The complainant, Miss Frances Fitz-Gibbon, told of lending the defendant $75 out of sympathy on representations that he was in need and anticipated funds from the East, and had also been assured of a position with the British Columbia Department of Trade and Industry, to commence on April 1. Later witness testified she found the representations incorrect.

NO JOB PROMISED

E. G. Rowebottom, deputy Minister of Trade and Industry for the province, told of conversations with the defendant, in which the latter had put in an application for a job. Defendant had been told that there were no openings and would not be for some time.

William L. Craig, director of trade extension and director of tourist travel for the same department, denied statements by the defendant that he had been asked to return in March to see about a position in that branch of the British Columbia service. Defendant had been told, along with many other applicants, that no one would be engaged for several months, the witness said.

On the witness stand in his own defence the defendant denied stating he had secured employment with the British Columbia Government, and said he had asked the complainant for a personal loan, which he had intended to repay.

On cross-examination by C. L. Harrison, for the prosecution, the defendant admitted obtaining a series of advances ranging from $20 to $100 from prominent people about Victoria, on the expectation of future receipts accruing to him.

SEEKS DISMISSAL

H. W. Davey, counsel for the defendant, sought dismissal of the charge on the ground that the interview with the complainant had been uncorroborated.

C. L. Harrison moved for conviction, stating the actions of the defendant were those of a person who could be "chafacterized as a scoundrel."

Returning a conviction, Magistrate Hall said he could not accept the explanations of the defendant, who for months past had plainly been living on borrowed sums. He would find the defendant guilty and reserve sentence until today. It was a point to consider that the defendant had a wife and family and had evidently been under some pressure.

Gives Intimate Glimpse Of Customs in Far East

Dr. Irene Bastowe Hudson Is Speaker at Meeting Of Y.W.C.A. Current Events Group, Describing Recent Journeyings in Asia

Some charmingly intimate glimpses of the peoples of Japan, China, the Hawaiian Islands, Java, and Bali were given by Dr. Irene Bastowe Hudson in the course of a delightfully informal travel-talk before the Current Events Group of the Y.W.C.A. yesterday afternoon.

The recital, which covered just a part of her experiences during a round-the-world tour last year, began with her arrival at the Hawaiian Islands. She quickly left Honolulu, a place which, to her, much resembled any large sophisticated modern city, and crossed to the Island of Hawaii, where there were still to be found remnants of the old native life and culture. Also, one could here see something of the great volcanoes which are so characteristic a part of the geology of the whole island group. A description was given of the ancient lava skidways, on which the natives enjoyed adventurous sport. The natives were adepts in certain types of athletics, the children thinking nothing of clambering up a giant palm tree to fetch down a fresh coconut.

Great numbers of Japanese were to be seen in the Hawaiian Islands. In the Government schools, which are American, between seventy-five and eighty per cent of the pupils were Japanese.

IN JAPAN

The ubiquitousness of the bicycle, the prettiness of the girls, the friendliness of the people, and the fascination of May as a month of festivals and weddings were specially mentioned in the first references to Japan. Pilgrimages to the shrine and temples were described, with some hints about the etiquette of removing the shoes on entering therein. The religion of Japan was much bound up with its culture. Nikko was one of the chief temple cities, and Dr. Hudson had also been much interested in the great study the people of Nikko gave to horticulture.

Something was also told about the domestic customs of Japan, in the homes of which the people still sit on the floor and still remove their shoes before entering. Kyoto was described as "the soul of Japan," this being where the Emperor lived. The lecturer acknowledged the great kindness and help she had received from Hon. R. Randolph Bruce, whom she had visited at the legation.

The Koreans had lost their ancient Buddhism and ancient arts, and seemed to resent the fact that they were no longer a free people. Agriculture was still in a primitive state. Dr. Hudson saw a man carrying water from one field to another in a shovel. Buffalo were still used for ploughing. Mukden was, she said, the noisiest city she had ever visited.

TEMPLE OF HEAVEN

The most interesting things in Peiping or Pekin were the Temple of Heaven and the Great Wall, and there were still many beautiful things in "The Forbidden City," although many of the art treasures had been moved owing to the anticipated troubles there.

Shanghai, Hongkong and Canton were later visited; then on to the Philippines, Java and the Island of Bali. Bali, under Dutch control, was one of the least modernized spots of the Far East, and here were to be seen the traditional religious dances and ancient handicrafts. Among her pictures the lecturer had some interesting photographs of stone carvings of great artistic merit done by the Balinese.

Mrs. Albert Sullivan presided in the absence of Mrs. W. G. Wilson.

Prior to Mrs. Sullivan's talk, Annie Aitken, president of Division 1, Junior Red Cross in the public school, gave a comprehensive outline of the aims and objects of her organization. Tea was served by Mrs. W. Ed'Del, Mrs. G. Orr and Mrs. W. Maitland.

Rehearsal Held For Style Show

Mannequins taking part in the Spring fashion show luncheon, to be held on Wednesday, March 16, at the Empress Hotel, attended a rehearsal yesterday morning in the Crystal ballroom. In response to popular demand, it has been decided to include a group of children's fashions in the show.

A large number of tickets have been sold for the affair and in order that all guests may see the fashions to the best advantage, raised platforms are being erected, down which the mannequins will parade.

COURT UPSETS ALBERTA CASE

these provisions leaves no doubt in my mind that the act is an attempt to regulate and control banks and banking as those terms are used in head 15 of section 91 of the British North America Act."

Judge L. A. Cannon "... I had the advantage of reading the careful analysis of the bill relating to credit control prepared by my brother, Kerwin, and his criticism of its different clauses. I find that I could add nothing useful to his reasons. I agree with him and his conclusions."

IS ULTRA VIRES

Judge A. B. Hudson: "It is clear that the three bills submitted are part of one legislative scheme, the central measure of which is the Alberta Social Credit Act. That act has been the subject of a searching analysis by my Lord the Chief Justice, and I concur in his reasons for holding that it is beyond the powers of the Legislature."

The judges' opinion on the Social Credit Act did not delete it from the statute books or affect it in any way. It was merely an expression of opinion from the bench but it would weigh heavily on any junior judge who was called upon to pass on the constitutionality of the statute in an ordinary case.

Similarly, the court's decision had no tangible effect on the three bills because they never came into operation. In the first place, Lieutenant-Governor John Bowen refusing to sign them after the Legislature passed them in October. Unless the Supreme Court's decision is upset by the Privy Council, the bills will never reach the statute books or become law.

MAY BE APPEALED

The Supreme Court decision may be appealed to the Privy Council in England, but no decision was made immediately. In Edmonton Premier Aberhart said he understood that Prime Minister Mackenzie King intended to launch the appeal. In Ottawa the Prime Minister said he would be glad to receive recommendations from Alberta on the point.

It was considered unlikely the Dominion would take the initiative in appealing because of its clear-cut victory over the legal contentions of Alberta. At the same time, the fact the court was unanimous and clear cut in its decisions might deter the province from appealing. The decision, however, will be made soon.

FINDINGS SUMMARIZED

In a series of judgments, this is what the court decided:

1. An act to amend and consolidate the Credit of Alberta Regulation Act was unconstitutional.
2. An act respecting the taxation of banks was unconstitutional.
3. An act to insure the publication of accurate news and information was unconstitutional.
4. The Dominion had unrestricted power to disallow Provincial enactments.
5. Lieutenant-Governors had power to reserve assent to bills, subject only to the restrictions imposed by instructions from the Governor-General.

On every subject the court ruled against the submissions of Alberta as outlined at the hearing here from January 10 to January 17. It accepted the arguments of the Dominion on every point.

BASIS OF LEGISLATION

The Social Credit Act, although not before the court, has been considered the main enactment of the Aberhart Government in its efforts to launch a new financial system in the province, most of the other Social Credit laws springing from it or relying on its provisions.

The Chief Justice came to the conclusion it was a direct violation of the powers of the Dominion as enumerated in Section 91 of the B.N.A. Act. Particularly it transgressed Dominion control of banking, trade and commerce.

The bill relating to Alberta newspapers, daily and weekly, would compel them to print corrective or amplifying statements on Government policies at the direction of the chairman of the Social Credit Board.

The Chief Justice ruled it was constitutional because "this bill is a part of the general scheme of Social Credit legislation, the basis of which is the Alberta Social Credit Act. The bill presupposes as a condition of its operation, that the Alberta Social Credit Act is validly enacted; and, since that act is ultra vires, the ancillary and dependent legislation must fall with it."

FREEDOM OF PRESS

The Chief Justice also put the press bill on a higher ground than that. He referred to the necessity of a free press in order that democracy might function at its best. He referred to the necessity of full discussion of public policies and the maintenance of parliamentary institutions which depended on an informed public opinion on the bill from this angle, being content with his decision it was unconstitutional as an ancillary enactment to the Social Credit Act.

On the question of disallowance the Chief Justice in substance ruled the power was conferred on the Dominion when the B.N.A. Act was passed in 1867, had been used many times in the intervening years and still was alive and unrestricted.

"The same argument, the Chief Justice ruled, was true of the power of reservation except that Lieutenant-Governors were limited by their instructions from the Governor-General.

VIEW ON DISALLOWANCE

On disallowance, perhaps the most significant point in any of the judgments was the following written by Justice Cannon:

"Another reason for the preservation of this power of disallowance of provincial statute is its necessity, more than ever evident, in order to safeguard the unity of the nation.

"It may become essential for the proper working of the Constitution to use in practice the principle of an absolute central control which seems to have been considered an essential part of the scheme of Confederation; this control ... found in the Lieutenant-Governor power of reservation and the Governor-General-in-Council's power of disallowance."

COUNT TOLL IN SUNSHINE

were found and three others reported missing.

HOMELESS REFUGEES

There were some 3,000 homeless in Orange County and 2,800 refugees in Los Angeles County.

County Health Officer John L. Pomeroy said there was no danger to public health yet evident. Food supplies were adequate.

The Southern Pacific expected to break the railroad tonation of Southern California tonight. The Santa Fe officials did not know when their lines would function.

Limited highway traffic was getting through the Coast Highway to Santa Barbara.

DAMAGE ESTIMATES

Los Angeles engineers estimated damage in the city to be about $3,000,000, and county road and bridge damage was figured around $8,000,000. San Bernardino reported $500,000 damage; Pasadena, $715,000; Glendale, $100,000; Santa Monica, $50,000; Glendora, $39,000.

Motion picture studios reported damage of $150,000.

The most tragic story of the floods came from Orange County today. Two little communities east of Santa Ana, the villages of Atwood and La Jolla, were completely washed out.

RAILWAY HOTEL TO BE COMPLETED

condition the hotel is permanently maintained and operated as part of the C.N.R. hotel system. This suspension is to apply only as long as the hotel is jointly operated.

At a morning session of the council, Mr. Hungerford said the proposal applied only to Vancouver and did not presage joint operation of the hotel chains operated by the two companies throughout Canada.

In a prepared statement he told the council an "understanding has been reached" in regard to joint operation of the new C.N.R. structure. The understanding would reduce "prospective losses arising from a condition under which there might be operated, at the same time two large railway hotels both incurring operating deficits."

TO BE HOTEL VANCOUVER

He said the new building would be known as Hotel Vancouver, the name under which the present C.P.R. hotel is operated.

A new company would be formed, with a board of directors composed of three representatives of each of the two railway companies, and that board would operate the present C.P.R. hotel and the new building "in the joint interest."

The old hotel would cease to operate when the new one was opened. It would be put to "other uses," Mr. Hungerford said. He did not say what those uses would be.

The world-wide traffic gathering forces of the C.N.R. and C.P.R. would be utilized to the full to bring to the new hotel the maximum of tourist and other travel.

TO TRANSFER STAFF

Operating staff of the present C.P.R. hotel would be transferred to the new building, but this would not apply to persons in executive positions.

The C.N.R. president described the new hotel as "one of the finest hotel structures to be found anywhere." It was a very large hotel and would take care of more than a thousand guests. Its convention and public room space, banquet rooms, salons for meeting, ballroom and other space were all planned to handle "a very large volume of business, including functions of every character."

reservation, the Japanese had agreed to forward their patrols to cross the American defence line.

On the Central China front, Japanese army officials said four powerful Japanese detachments now are lined up solidly on a twenty-mile front in Southwestern Shansi, prepared to use artillery, infantry and aviation in a broom-like offensive to sweep the last Chinese troops from the province.

Chinese, however, declared that Linfen, where Japanese had said two of their columns joined, still was in Chinese hands, defended by several regiments of "dare-to-die" soldiers.

"Didn't you guarantee when you sold me this car that you would replace anything that broke?"

"Yes, sir. What is it?"

"Well, I want a new garage door."

Paris Gowns Being Made for Countess

TIRANA, Albania, March 4.—It is probable that King Zog will take his young bride, the Countess Geraldine Apponyi, to Paris immediately after the wedding. This would be a fitting tribute since the consent of the Vatican to the union of a Catholic and Moslem cannot be obtained without Italian influence.

Meanwhile, Paris dressmaking circles are busy. A woman designer has been court dressmaker to the Albanian royal family for some years, and every now and then she sends a staff here to discuss styles and take fittings for the six sisters of the King. Forty evening dreses have just been made, all with trains, in lame, lace and tulle, and many more beautiful gowns are being chosen for the wedding celebrations.

What Today Means

"PISCES"

If March 5 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9.45 to 11.45 a.m., from 1.45 to 3.45 p.m., and from 7.45 to 9.45 p.m. The danger periods are from 7.45 to 9.45 a.m., from 3.45 to 7.45 p.m. and from 9.45 to 11.45 p.m.

If you wish to make yourself thoroughly disliked this day, then be dictatorial and egotistical. A sense of self-righteousness, if conspicuously displayed, will subject you to criticism.

Influence, particularly in getting favors done, is likely to be a powerful factor in this day's business and social circles, so do not hesitate to make use of it. If you are in the position to exert it. Be careful that false pride does not become a stumbling block to something worthy of attention. Wise men or women will recognize their own limitations this day, and refrain from trying to do things they are really not qualified to undertake. Married and engaged couples, as well as those on the verge of becoming betrothed, had best ignore scandalmongers this day, if they wish to avoid making a grave mistake or forming an erroneous opinion.

If a woman and March 5 is your birthday, never permit yourself to be selfish, for through it much unhappiness can come. You ought to be a discriminating eater, an excellent housewife and an entertaining companion. You probably are a better leader than a follower. A naturally born "joiner" you probably belong to several social clubs or fraternal organizations. Perhaps few people really understand you, as you may keep careful guard over your innermost thoughts. In teaching, writing, painting, playing a musical instrument, some political activity or missionary work, your achievements might bring you public acclaim.

The child born on March 5 is generally very appreciative. It probably will be quick to recognize and grasp every opportunity for advancement.

If a man and March 5 is your natal day it may be by your ignoring little details that some of your biggest business prospects will be endangered. Avoid this by being analytical. As a musician, artist, author, clergyman, lawyer, explorer, sales agent or manufacturer, social position and wealth may be the reward of your efforts.

MISUNDERSTOOD

Mr. Brown, the proud father of newly-born triplets, rang up the local newspaper to report the glad tidings. "The girl at the other end did not quite hear what he said.

"Will you repeat that?" she asked.

No fear, was the answer. "I'll if I can help it."

LOOKS BEYOND ARMAGEDDON

Rev. S. R. Orr Sees Horror Again on the March in Europe

Regret is expressed that accommodation could not be found for those turned away from Rev. S. R. Orr's meeting last Sunday evening in the Crystal Garden auditorium. Extra seating will be arranged for next Sunday's lecture when Mr. Orr will speak on "Is Horror Again Walking? What Lies Beyond Armageddon?"

The questions then to be answered are: "Is conscription near in Britain?" "What did the British Parliament do about holding in London next April a World Conference of the Godless?" "Is the Father Divine movement coming to an end?" "What is Russia's last act in its war upon God?"

"What is the reaction in other countries to Britain's crisis over Mr. Eden?" "Has military Bolshevism started on its march in Europe?" "Will Britain and France come to Austria's aid if war begins there or if the Nazis gain the upper hand?" "What is the latest information which indicates that Eden was right about Italy."

"Where may we find a clear prophetic picture of modern Israel holding vast territories and of the divine intention to give them world domination?" "Should we teach our children that the Anglo-Saxon nations are God's chosen people?" "Can the church do more than scratch the surface in India, China and Africa?"

Community singing under Mr. Sterling will begin at 7 p.m. The Burns Hall, 1408 Douglas Street, has been secured as a centre for congregational activities during the week and will shortly be opened for service. The Sunday evening meetings will continue at the Crystal Garden auditorium.

REV. A. BISCHLAGER AT ST. SAVIOUR'S

New Premises Completed

Fully Modern in Every Detail

The Stan-Pat Service Station, 1620 Oak Bay Avenue, Which, After Being Rebuilt, Is One of the Most Modern of Its Kind in the City. This Picture Gives an Excellent Idea of the Novel Cantilever Canopy and the Capacious Repair Department in the Rear.

SERVICE STATION ON OAK BAY AVENUE IS NOW COMPLETED

Modern Structure Replaces Older Building at Stan-Pat Service Station—Complete Tune-Up Department Found in the Rear—Floodlighting Arranged

THE Stan-Pat Service Station, 1620 Oak Bay Avenue, which will be officially reopened, has recently undergone complete renovation and now stands as one of the most modern structures of its kind in Victoria. Operated by R. E. Stanley, it has long been known for the excellent service rendered, and today it boasts every possible convenience, combined with real beauty of architectural design.

With no interruption of the regular service, the station was completely demolished to make way for the new structure. One of the most striking features is found in the cantilever canopy, an integral part of the building which projects out over the pumps, giving service man and patron shelter from the weather, yet there are no posts whatever. Finished in cream stucco, with a trim in the well-known colors of the Home Oil, not the least part of the beauty lies in the simplicity of the lines, the ornate or garish being rigidly eschewed.

SPECIAL FLOODLIGHTS

The entire property has been hard-surfaced, enabling a car to be driven right around the service station and facilitating parking. Special floodlights, the only ones of their kind in the city, have been set up at each corner. These are dual, with one mercury incandescent beam and one 2,000-watt high intensity light in each. The blending of this illumination gives the same effect as diffused sunlight, and gives daylight visibility in every part of the lot. Concealed lighting is arranged under the canopy.

In the front of the station stand two new Sales Master pumps. The latest of their kind, these pumps have a system of dual registration, enabling the customer to see the exact amount of the sale on the dial. Both gallons and the amount in dollars and cents are recorded, the cost registered by tenths of a gallon. In this way it is possible for a customer to ask for his gasoline in terms of money. That is, he may ask for "a dollar's worth" and receive exactly that amount, thus eliminating the bother of waiting for change.

TUNE-UP DEPARTMENT

Through the office, the window of which commands an excellent view of the premises, is a door that leads to the motor tune-up department. Here is everything to facilitate the execution of all forms of motor repairs, greasing, lubrication and adjustments. Of interest here are the big doors, one at either end, which go up like a roller blind into the roof, allowing the cars to be driven straight through with no awkward backing or turning. The shop itself is conveniently laid out with an hydraulic hoist let into the floor, doing away with the old-fashioned grease pit and with plenty of space and light to allow quick and accurate work.

HOME OIL PRODUCTS

Home Oil products are featured exclusively here, together with Firestone tires. Check-chart lubrication is done, with the newest type of grease guns and sprayers to assure thoroughness and efficiency. Another important part of the equipment is the King System auto tester, a device designed to measure motor performance and to instantly detect faulty ignition, leaky valves or any similar trouble in the engine.

R. E. "Ted" Stanley, the operator of this new station, is well known in Victoria, having come to the city on demobilization after the war. He has been practically his entire life in the mechanical field, and has operated the present station for the past four years. He is a member of the Canadian Legion and also of the Knights of Pythias.

Samis Advances to Final in Canadian Badminton Tourney

Young Vancouver Shuttler Reaches Select Bracket In National Meet at Quebec—Margaret Taylor, British Columbia Champion, Defeated In Semi-Finals—Play Finals Today

QUEBEC, March 4 (CP).—Big Johnny Samis, of Vancouver, and sure-hitting Jim Forsythe, of Winnipeg, entered the men's singles final in the Canadian badminton championships tonight with straight-set victories over Eastern stars.

Hitting out without a trace of conservative play, Samis defeated the tournament's ranking player, Jack Storey, of Toronto, 15-12, 15-10. The big, eighteen-year-old Coast youngster took apart Storey's polished play and flashed a backhand shot that kept the University of Toronto student running constantly. Forsythe downed Rod Phelan, of Toronto, 15-8, 15-13.

The Dominion's 1933 men's doubles titlists, Doug McKean and W. A. Burrows, of Montreal, knocked off the top-ranked duo, Emsley Long and Jack Blanchfield, of Winnipeg. The women's champions of 1935 and 1936, Margaret and Ruth Robertson, of Ottawa, came from behind with smooth team play to spill a combination of Mrs. W. R. Walton and Elizabeth Kennedy, Ontario's leading player and Quebec's second.

Long and Blanchfield left themselves wide open for the Montrealers' favorite attack, a chopping game at the net, and McKean and Burrows won in straight sets, 15-10, 15-7.

The Robertson girls put power into a long-range display to defeat Mrs. Walton and Miss Kennedy, 12-15, 15-1, 15-4.

WESTERNERS ADVANCE

Jim Forsythe and Charlie Jones, of Winnipeg, carried the West's main threat after elimination of Long and Blanchfield, defeating Len Schiemm and R. H. Webster, of Montreal, 15-5, 9-15, 15-7. Johnny Samis, of Vancouver and Bob Pentland, of Calgary, both speedy at getting about the court, but inexperienced as a combination, downed Ned Hankin and Syd Reynolds, of Montreal, 12-15, 15-8, 15-8.

Rod Phelan and Jack Sibbald, of Toronto, completed the semi-final brackets with a 15-11, 15-8 decision over T. H. Smith, of Toronto, and Colin Brown, of London, Ont.

Margaret Taylor, Kelowna, B.C., ranked No. 2 in the tournament behind Mrs. W. R. Walton, joined Vess O'Shea, of Vancouver, to give the West its only representation in the women's doubles semi-finals, with a 15-5, 15-7 win over Nancy Bonnat and Nora Hankin, of Montreal.

Betty Snell and Mrs. Isobel Perodeau, of Ottawa, strode into the final by downing Mrs. Ernest Lafferty and Marguerite Delage, of Quebec, 18-14, 18-16. Mrs. E. F. Coke and Margaret Lamb, Torontonian, ousted Audrey Garnett, of Winnipeg, and Norma Hall, of Ottawa, 17-15, 15-6.

Miss Taylor became the only player in the tourney to remain in three events, as she combined with Bob Pentland to reach mixed semi-finals with an 18-13, 15-7 win over Mrs. Gordon Pirt and Charlie Jones, of Winnipeg.

Mrs. J. Barr and Dave Rattray, of Montreal, stopped Vancouver's Vess O'Shea and Samis, 15-2, 15-5.

In contrast, tomorrow's women's singles final will be played by Easterners. Mrs. Isabel Perodeau, of Ottawa, decided that when she defeated left-handed Margaret Taylor, of Kelowna, with another display of hitting strength, 12-10, 2-11, 11-4. Unranked by the tournament committee, Mrs. Perodeau will face Mrs. W. R. Walton, of Toronto.

Mrs. Walton had too much experience for young Marjorie Delaney, of Quebec, and she stepped over the Quebec champions, 11-3, 11-5.

Samis pounded his way into another final when he teamed with Bob Pentland, of Calgary, to defeat Forsythe and Charlie Jones, of Winnipeg, in men's doubles 15-4, 15-17, 15-4. He was the dominating figure of the match, walloping the most telling points down the centre.

The Vancouver-Calgary pair will oppose Rod Phelan and Jack Sibbald, of Toronto, who came from behind to defeat the 1933 Dominion champions, Doug McKean and N. A. Burrows, of Montreal, 6-15, 15-6, 15-9.

REACH DOUBLES FINAL

Mrs. Perodeau couldn't match Samis' feat of reaching two finals, for Miss Taylor came back with Vess O'Shea, of Vancouver, to defeat her and Betty Snell, also of Ottawa, in the women's doubles, 10-15, 15-5, 15-1.

Margaret and Ruth Robertson, of Ottawa, took the other semi-final over Mrs. E. F. Coke and Marjorie Lamb, of Toronto, 15-5, 15-12.

In the mixed doubles semi-finals, Miss Nancy Bonnar and Len Schelmm, Montreal, defeated Mrs. J. Barr and D. S. Rattray, Montreal, 15-12, 18-15, and Miss Margaret Taylor, Kelowna, B.C., and Bob Pentland, Calgary, defeated Miss Kay Biette and Jack Sibbald, Toronto, 9-15, 15-13, 15-12.

WAR ADMIRAL RACES TODAY

Favorite to Win $50,000 Widener Challenge Cup At Hialeah

MIAMI, Fla., March 4 (AP).—War Admiral, the great chip off the old block, goes after the Widener Challenge Cup at Hialeah Park tomorrow and he looks like a certified cheque to weary and badly bent horse players.

The small but mighty son of Man o' War, unbeaten in his nine starts since 1936, must carry his heaviest weight of 130 pounds and face a probable field of twelve or thirteen in the one and one-quarter mile test, but hardly one expert can figure out a serious contender.

The Admiral figures to go postward at 1 to 2, shortest priced favorite of the Florida racing season.

War Minstrel, a 30-1 shot that goes to the post with 111 pounds aboard, will be in the capable hands of Jockey Johnny Longden, the long-legged jockey from Cardston, Alta., who has been giving a crack-riding performance during the Hialeah meeting.

DENEMARK ENTRY

War Minstrel carries the silks of Mrs. Emil Denemark and forms half of her entry. Her other horse, Corinto, with Jockey Ryan up at 109 pounds, is also a 30-1 shot.

War Admiral, except for his heavier package, will have the usual setup for his drive for top money, which should approximate $45,000 or more. Charley Kurtsinger, who has ridden him in all his principal triumphs, will be up.

On the basis of final workouts, Thomas J. Healey's Tatterdemalion shaped up as the Admiral's foremost rival. He worked five furlongs in his final tune-up yesterday in 58.

BARLUND IN RING UPSET

Finnish Heavyweight Stops "Buddy" Baer in Seventh Round

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP).—Gunnar Barlund, ring-scarred Finnish heavyweight, sprang a fistic upset tonight by stopping Jacob Henry (Buddy) Baer, Jr., giant younger brother of Max, in the seventh round of a ten-round match, the main bout at Madison Square Garden. Referee Billy Cavanagh halted the bout in 1:36 of the seventh as Baer hung on the ropes in his own corner, and awarded a technical knockout victory to Barlund.

The outcome not only surprised a gathering of 8,565 cash customers, who paid $23,102.34, but shocked the betting fraternity, which had made Baer a five-to-twelve choice to win and five-to-six favorite to win by a knockout.

Baer called it quits after taking a pasting for five of the first six rounds. He was not once knocked off his feet, though he slipped and went to his knees in the sixth round. "Buddy" turned appealingly to his corner and then to the referee just before the bout came to a sudden ending.

"I've had enough," Baer mumbled to Cavanagh as the referee started to pry the pair apart.

Baer, in his own corner, was on the receiving end of a two-fisted shellacking, and bleeding freely from the nose and mouth. His arms dangled at his side, his huge shoulders slumped, and he gave every appearance of being thoroughly discouraged.

HANDLER FAINTS

In the midst of the furore caused by Barlund's decisive victory, one of the Finn's handlers, Al Ramo, fell to the ring floor in a faint. He was quickly revived, but twisted one knee and had to be carried from the ring.

Barlund, notwithstanding he was himself cut badly about the nose, chin and eyes, weathered Baer's heaviest guns in the opening round, and then proceeded to give Max Baer's young brother an artistic shellacking. The sturdy Finlander spotted his rival forty-two pounds, scaling only 200 1-4 to Buddy's 242 1-2, but his effective left-hand punching and superior generalship more than offset Baer's physical advantages.

Nineteen Horses Will Go to Barrier Today In $100,000 Handicap

Record-Breaking Crowd Expected to Witness Fourth Running of Santa Anita Handicap—Seabiscuit and Pompoon Are Favorites

LOS ANGELES, March 4 (AP).—Santa Anita's $100,000 Handicap captured the fancy of North American turf followers tonight, and a record-breaking crowd of more than 60,000 was expected to watch the fourth running of the classic tomorrow.

Nineteen thoroughbreds, headed by the top favorites, Seabiscuit and Pompoon, were named to go into the one and one-quarter-mile race for the richest purse in the world.

Sunshine flooded Santa Anita Park today, more was expected for tomorrow, and it seemed certain the race would be run on a fast track.

And a fast track would be all to the merry for the dual Canadian threat of Indian Broom and Whichcee, owned by Major Austin C. Taylor, of Vancouver.

Hunched up over the Vancouver Major's Whichcee will be Jockey Harry Richards, the clever equestrian who chose Rosemont as his mount a year ago, and then galloped "Rosy" home ahead to win the California classic. Thus, Whichcee is assured of a good ride.

WOOLF ON SEABISCUIT

Elsewhere Canadian interest in the "100 grand" centred on the sturdy little frame of Jockey George Woolf from Cardston, Alta., who has the mount on the 1937 handicap king, Seabiscuit. The Biscuit's regular jockey, John (Red) Pollard, of Edmonton, was forced out of the race by injuries.

Seabiscuit goes in at top weight of 130 pounds. The Biscuit's jockey, Woolf, rode Azucar to victory in the 1935 handicap.

Track officials announced late today that post time for the big race had been set for 4.25 p.m. (P.S.T.), and that the first race would be run at 1 o'clock, instead of the usual 1.30.

SCOTTISH TAKE HOOP LAURELS

Win Vancouver Island Intermediate Title Despite 32-31 Setback at Nanaimo

NANAIMO, March 4.—Although losing tonight's game by one point, 32-31, to Nanaimo Tar Flats, Canadian Scottish, Victoria, won the intermediate "A" basketball championship of the Island, the final score for the series being 83-55, they having won the first game in Victoria, 52-23.

Flats put up a wonderfully game fight, and at half-time were leading 16-7, but the heavier-built Scottish, with their height and reach, proved too much for the locals, who in the dying moments of the game were lucky to get away with a one-point win. Johnson was high scorer, and the best player on the floor. He scored fourteen points for Nanaimo, while Lovell, of the Scottish, scored nine.

In the junior series Nanaimo Invaders took the floor against Cumberland with a five-point lead as the result of their first encounter at Cumberland, where they won 26-21. Tonight they repeated their win with a wider margin, 33-17, or a total of 59-38 for the series. Invaders will next play winners of the Victoria-Ladysmith junior encounter for the Island championship.

The opener of the evening was the first of the series for Island honors between junior girls, when Spencers, Nanaimo, won from Fairbridge School, 16-8.

AMERICAN CAGEMEN PROVE TOO STRONG FOR VICTORIA, 74-32

larity, the Safeways were soon enjoying a 16-0 lead with seven and a half minutes gone. Several of the Dominoes' attempts did everything but find the basket.

However, Chuck Chapman, captain of the Dominoes, broke the ice with a long shot frome the side court to make it 16-2. After Wells scored from the next centre, Hank Rowe tossed in two awarded shots to make it read Denver 20, Dominoes 4. McCracken added two goals and Frank scored right after to increase the margin, but Rowe shot one in from the side to bring the Victoria total to seven. Denver kept holding a decided advantage and it was 33-9 for them at the half.

Coach Everett Shelton, of the visitors, put Colvin at centre and ran in four other substitutes as the final period got under way. Davies raced away from the tip-off and scored for the Dominoes, but Parrack eluded his check for two quick field goals within half a minute. Rowe got one out of two from the strip, and then Leuty and Colvin pushed the score board up to 41-12. Rowe was fouled again and converted both from the line.

SCORE MOUNTS

Art Chapman netted from close in and Jackson caged two quick ones, but these were sandwiched in between eight points for the Denver boys. The Dominoes were letting their checks run wild under their basket as the game progressed and the score mounted rapidly as the crowd sat silently and wondered if the substitutes were just as good as the regular line. Chuck Chapman went off on personals with the count 61-24, but the scoring parade continued towards the Dominoes' hoop as the visiting forwards were running through to score field goals, most of them "sitters," practically at will.

Alderman James Adam welcomed the Denver team on behalf of the city, and then Coach Shelton introduced his players to the crowd.

Ramblers defeated Kingham-Gillespie in a preliminary game, 32-30.

NOT LITERALLY

The manager called Jenkins into his office. "Jenkins," he said, "the company has decided to offer you the post formerly occupied by Hooks, who so tragically met his death when he walked into the river and was drowned."

"Poor Hooks," sighed Jenkins sadly. "In accepting your kind offer, sir, I can only hope that I shall do my utmost to follow in his footsteps."

Jane Dixon Says:

THE YOUNG MAN WRITING TODAY'S LETTER, COMPLAINS ABOUT HIS MISERABLE FAMILY, WHEN HE SHOULD BE REALIZING THAT HE IS THE HOPE OF THAT FAMILY.

When we get to feeling so sorry, for ourselves and start whining about what a whacking life gives us, we should take time off to consider the plight of the other fellow.

I have heard, and so have you, a woman carrying on at a great rate because the kitchen sink stopped up and the plumber didn't come, promised, to fix it.

Next door, perhaps, a tragedy is being enacted. Shattered health, carriage on the rocks, fortune lost, one loved in shame——

Listen—and be thankful!

Miss Jane Dixon: You are always telling us to look at the bright side. Well, that's easy enough for you—with a job, a husband, a home, a future—I don't know what else.

I wonder if you could find a bright side to what I have to face? I'm a young man, twenty-four. I lost a leg when I was sixteen—ran a nail in my foot. My family was too ignorant to know there was any danger, and even if they had known they didn't have the money to take me to a doctor. They should have taken me to a public clinic you may say, or a charity doctor; but I told you they are ignorant. Gangrene set in, and I was lucky enough to escape with the loss of a leg instead of with the loss of my life.

My father is a drunkard—and when I say drunkard I don't means he goes on sprees. He's a sot—a sodden alcoholic lump of clay. My mother is an invalid—at least she ought to be one, but she has to drag herself around our poverty-stricken shack to keep the roof of life from caving in on all of us.

My kid sister has just been sent to prison for grand larceny—she is a shoplifter, and she lifted a costly fur coat. Anything over twenty-five in our area is grand instead of petit larceny. My kid brother has never done a stroke of work in his life, but he wears good, loud clothes, talks out of the side of his mouth and says that only punks have to work. It won't be long now. He's only a couple of hops ahead of the cops and losing distance every day.

But, you say, this young man has a fair education. He knows what's it all about. Well, Miss Dixon, I picked up what I have by hard labor, by borrowing schoolbooks from kids in the neighborhood. A doctor who worked on my leg gave me a dictionary and a shelf of textbooks. I have a fair job, considering my handicaps. Maybe I'm one of those career men we read about—ha!

So now then, what?—Jimmy.

Answer: Why Jimmy, haven't you heard? You're the bright side of your family. You're the sort of stuff that lifts families out of gutters and puts them on level ground. Wouldn't you rather be you than your sister, who is a thief in a prison, or your brother, who is a phoney on his way there?

Remember Jimmy, it isn't any of these people who are attached to you by the accident of birth, who will make or break the life you deserve to live. Only you can do that job.

Keep studying, give the best you have to your job and you will be a career man!

LABOR ECONOMICS

Johnson was talking about his farm to a young city man staying at the village inn. "Why don't you have one of those motor harvesting machines?" asked the city man. "They do the work of six men, you know."

The other stroked his beard. "No use to me, mister. I've only got enough work for four men, so the thing would be wasting two men's time."

CONSERVATIVES IN CONFERENCE

bec delegate, who was Solicitor-General and in the Bennett Cabinet.

Gordon Graydon, member of the House of Commons for Peel, English secretary of the conference, said tonight there was no mention of the party leadership either by Mr. Bennett or anybody else at the opening session. Georges Geon, victor in the recent Argenteuil by-election, was named French secretary.

FULL REPRESENTATION

Registration for the conference totaled 136, including most of the party members of the Commons and Senate. There were representatives from every province, with Ontario and Quebec having the largest groups.

Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader in the Upper House, was expected to join in tomorrow's sessions. Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, former Ontario Premier and former Canadian High Commissioner to the United Kingdom, was not expected to come. Hon. W. D. Herridge, brother-in-law of Mr. Bennett and former Canadian Minister to Washington, is attending.

Mr. Bennett opened the conference today with a short address, the nature of which was not made public. The gathering, in the railway committee room of the House of Commons, is closed to press and public.

LEADERS ATTENDING

Four provincial party leaders are attending. They were J. G. Diefenbaker, of Saskatchewan; Dr. W. J. MacMillan, of Prince Edward Island; Errick Willis, of Manitoba, and Hon. Earl Rowe, member of the House of Commons for Dufferin-Simcoe, leader of the Ontario party. Also on hand was Leopold Macaulay, Ontario House leader.

Delegates waited eagerly for a statement tomorrow from Mr. Bennett as to his continuing as leader. The question of holding a national convention will be decided largely by what he says.

Sources close to Mr. Bennett said tonight his attitude could be summarized: He is willing to continue as party leader if the party is united behind him; if a national convention is called, he will reserve his decision until the convention.

PREVAILING SENTIMENT

The preponderance of sentiment among Mr. Bennett's followers in the Commons seems to be that there is no need for a national convention on the scale of the Winnipeg session of 1927, which elected Mr. Bennett leader, if he stays at the helm.

They feel the reorganization of the National Liberal-Conservative Association and a representative gathering of it in Ottawa to determine policy would be what is necessary before the next election.

Former Cabinet ministers attending include Hon. W. G. Ernst, Hon. R. B. Hanson, Hon. Samuel Gobeil, Sir Henry Drayton, Hon. G. R. Geary, Hon. W. A. Gordon, Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, Hon. R. C. Matthews, Hon. Dr. Raymond Morand, Hon. Dr. D. M. Sutherland, Hon. T. G. Murphy and Hon. Lucien Gendron. Dr. J. T. M. Anderson, former Premier of Saskatchewan, also is attending.

Kinsmen Meet to Hear Address by Elmore Philpott

At a meeting of the Kinsmen Club in Spencer's dining-room Thursday evening, Captain Elmore C. Philpott, M.C., spoke briefly on "Personalities I Have Met." Herbert Sabiston presided.

During the course of his address, Captain Philpott stressed the importance of supporting the League of Nations. Although he thought there might be another great conflict, he was sure that the League of Nations would eventually bring about lasting peace.

Mr. Sabiston welcomed Victor Gilbert's return to the Kinsmen Club as a member. Guests at the meeting were Robert Schultz, Harold Bourne and George Currie, former president of the Saskatchewan Kinsmen Club.

STAMP DISPLAY COMING TO CITY

Valuable Collections to Be Exhibited at Empress Hotel in May

Victoria has been chosen this year for the annual Pacific International Philatelic Exhibition, which will open in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel on May 28, and continue until May 30. This will be the first time the exhibition will be held on Canadian soil, and dates chosen include the week-end on which Decoration Day falls in the United States.

Stamp collections valued at more than $200,000 will be on display, consisting of nearly 500 frames of exhibits, compared with the 400 frames on show at last year's exhibition, held in Seattle. It is expected also that between 200 and 300 philatelists from all parts of the Pacific Coast will visit Victoria for the exhibition.

ANNUAL CONVENTION

Concurrently with the exhibition, the annual convention of the Northwest Federation of Stamp Clubs will be held, and will be attended by delegates representing Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and British Columbia.

R. M. Angus, Victoria, is president of the federation. Hubert Lethaby will be chairman of the convention and exhibition, and W. J. Davey will act as secretary of the exhibition.

"The King's Stamp," a talking film depicting all the stages of the production of the Jubilee issue will be shown during the exhibition, by special permission of the British Postmaster-General.
